

THE SUNDAY LAWS

Rulings of Judges and Magistrates Were Criticised

NEW YORK, June 8.—Resolutions criticising rulings by judges and magistrates declared to be contrary to the spirit of the laws regulating Sabbath observance were made public today by the executive committee of the New York Sabbath association following their adoption by that committee. The resolutions of one or more higher court judges and certain of our city magistrates are called into question by the resolutions which urge that all churches, Young Men's Christian associations and other religious bodies will refrain from inviting to their platforms any judge who has publicly held up to ridicule the self-sacrificing advocates of law enforcement and the maintenance of the Christian Sabbath on rest day, and the further hope is expressed that "when such men seek political preferment more honorable and worthy may be chosen."

The association also urges that enforcement of the Sunday laws be demanded of the public officials responsible for such enforcement.

KEARNS IS HELD

Said to be One of "Forty Thieves"

BOSTON, June 8.—Bridges arresting the alleged thief, Inspectors Rooney and McCauley of police headquarters yesterday recovered part of the property that was stolen early in April from the office of the Boston potato chip company on the second floor at 115 Commercial street. David Kearns, 18, of 92 East Dedham street, South End, is accused of the theft. He is alleged by the police to be a member of the so-called "Forty Thieves," who have been active in the South End during the past two years.

Kearns was arrested in the detention room of the municipal criminal court shortly after he had appeared from a sentence to the Concord reformatory that had been imposed for larceny. Upon being arrested on the larceny charge he waived examination and was bound over in $500 to the July term of the grand jury.

Kearns confessed, according to the police, having described to them how he entered the office of the potato chip company and removed the valuables and papers from the safe, which had been left open. Certain articles that he is alleged to have stolen were recovered before his arrest.

After Kearns had been locked up he told the police where they might find the rest of the property. Insurance policies, copper stock certificates, promissory notes and other papers, representing several thousand dollars, which were taken at the time, are now being sought for at places that Kearns named, he having stated that he discarded the valuable papers when he realized that they were of no value to him.

BISHOP'S NIECE

The Bride of William A. Barry

A very pretty June wedding was solemnized this forenoon in the chapel of the Immaculate Conception church. The ceremony was at ten o'clock and the contracting parties were William A. Barry of 652 Broadway and Miss Mary V. Allen, of 216 Rogers street. Rev. A. S. Malone of Newton, a cousin of the bride, officiated. The bride is a niece of Bishop Allen of Montpelier.

The chapel was prettily decorated by friends of the bride, the predominant colors being white and green.

Miss Julia T. Allen, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and the bridegroom's brother, Mr. John I. Barry, was best man. The bride wore white, empire waist satin and carried lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore apricot marcellette and carried white sweet peas.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride in Rogers street. Only immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The house was prettily decorated with the same colors as predominated at the church and the reception hours were from 2 to 5. The ushers at the house and at the church were, Maurice H. Powers and J. Harry Flaherty. Mr. and Mrs. Barry were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts. They will spend their honeymoon in the south and will be at home to their friends, in Rogers street, after July 1.

NORMAN BORDEN

Was Banqueted by Former Associates

A complimentary banquet to Norman B. Borden, who resigned recently as secretary of the Lowell Weaving Co., was tendered him at the Watery hotel last night by former office and mill associates. The occasion was a very pleasant one and a great many nice things were said of the guest of honor. It was plain to be seen that his associates regretted his retirement and after a menu, fit for kings, had been discussed, cigars were lighted and speeches were in order. George Pearson was toastmaster and he filled the office admirably. To the compliments that were given him, Mr. Borden replied modestly. He said it was difficult for him to express, in full, his appreciation of the good will of his former associates. He spoke of the good fellowship that had always existed between himself and the men who honored him last night and he said there were many pleasant memories that he would treasure in the days to come. The menu was a very pretty and a very unalloyed one. It was printed on cloth made by the Lowell Weaving company and was very neatly gotten up.

GIFT FROM POPE

Archbishop O'Connell Receives a Beautiful Episcopal Cross

ROME, June 8.—The pope today gave as a gift to the Most Rev. William H. O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, a beautiful episcopal cross of sapphires and diamonds on the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of his ordination. The gift was brought by the hand of Mr. Pressan, the pope's private secretary, and accompanied by a cardinal and a plattering letter of congratulation. The archbishop has received many congratulations on this occasion.

AT NUPTIAL MASS

Wedding of Miss Anna M.
Dempsey This Morning

One of the most beautiful of June weddings took place at St. Patrick's church, this morning when Miss Anna M. Dempsey, the charming daughter of the late Patrick Dempsey was united in marriage with Mr. William E. Harrington, of Manchester, N. H., a member of one of New Hampshire's most prominent Catholic families. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., assisted by Rev. Joseph Curran and the marriage ceremony was followed by a nuptial mass at which the officiating clergyman was Rev. John J. McHugh, assistant pastor. The altar and sanctuary were attractively adorned with flowers and stately tropical plants. The bridal couple occupied pews within the sanctuary. Assisting at the service within the sanctuary were Rev. Fr. Lyons of Manchester, a close friend of the groom, and several members of the sanctuary choir.

As the bridal party proceeded down the main aisle to the altar the strains of the wedding chorus from Lohengrin were softly rendered on the organ by Michael J. Johnson. During the nuptial mass Prof. G. Picco of the Boston Opera company rendered St. Francis' "Ave Maria" and Schubert's "O Salutaris." As the bridal party left the church the grand harmony of Mendelssohn's wedding march filled the vast edifice. The bride was charmingly gowned in white liberty satin and train of Point d'Appique lace. She wore a veil of orange blossoms and carried a cluster of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Dempsey, who was a becoming gown of pink chiffon, embroidered, and trimmed with point d'Appique and carried a cluster of flowers. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride in Salem street where a reception to the relatives was held and a dainty collation served. The ushers at the house and church were Col. Peter Corr, of Taunton, Mass., Mr. George Clason, of Boston; Mr. William Starr, of Manchester, N. H., and Mr. Harry Farrell, of Pawtucket, R. I.

The happy couple were the recipients of a wealth of beautiful gifts. They left early in the afternoon by auto on their honeymoon which will be enjoyed at the New York watering places. They will be at home at their new residence, 639 Essex street, Manchester, N. H., after September 1.

DEATHS

RICKS—Harry Franklin Ricks, aged 17 years, 11 months, 18 days, died this morning at the Lowell General hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ricks of 410 Walker street. Besides his parents, he leaves one brother, Howard.

THE O'BRIEN CASE

Was Argued in Salem
Today

The demurrer in the equity suit brought by Michael S. O'Brien against Al Winn and the Lowell Baseball Association, for alleged breach of Winn's contract, involving O'Brien to play on the Lowell team and to have the franchise of the club in the New England league sold to satisfy the plaintiff's claim, was argued in the superior court at Salem, today, before Judge Richardson. James P. Owens and Melvin G. Rogers appeared for Winn and Donat and Arundel of Lawrence for O'Brien.

Judge Richardson said that his impression was that a court of equity had no power to order such property as the franchise to be sold and therefore that the temporary injunction issued against Winn restraining him from disposing of the franchise should be dissolved. He desired, however, to take the matter under advisement before rendering a final decision.

TUBERCULOSIS

Countess of Abereen
Waging Fight

BOSTON, June 8.—The principal features of today's entertainment of the Countess of Abereen, who is visiting this city for the purpose of creating a sympathetic interest in the fight that is being waged in Ireland against tuberculosis were a breakfast tendered by the Professional Women's club, and a reception this afternoon by the Canadian club, the Victorian club, the British charitable society and the Scottish charitable society.

This evening the Countess will speak at a public meeting at Faneuil Hall.

NEW TURKISH BATHS

The Turkish bath, or hammam, is an ancient institution which has been known since the time of the Persians. It is a place of relaxation and recreation, and is especially popular in the East. The new Turkish baths in Lowell are the first of their kind in this city. They are located at 50 Central street, and are under the management of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. The baths are of the modern type, and are equipped with the latest Turkish bath apparatus. They are open every day, and are a most desirable place for a visit. The price of admission is very low, and the service is excellent. The baths are a most desirable place for a visit, and are a most desirable place for a visit.

This matter was brought up on reconsideration by Councilman Neenan. The latter is a member of the special committee appointed to look into the matter and at the meeting of the committee when it was recommended that it be referred to the standing committee on police. Mr. Keenan was present and he asked time in consideration. Mr. Keenan said last night that he had looked into the matter thoroughly and was satisfied that it would be for the best interests of the city to refuse the rate.

The police and the water street have a proper condition and that an extension of edgelines to be made in upper Fayette street, were referred by the committee on streets. A petition from W. T. S. Bartlett, asking for compensation from the city for a gravel bank in Fayette street was referred to the committee on finance.

Reports on the repair of sidewalks in Button street were referred to the committee on streets. Other minor matters were referred to proper committees.

Tommy Quill Surprised the Sports

The 12-round bout between Jimmie Gardner of this city and Tommy Quill of Breckin, at the Armory club, was a draw. Referee Sheehan might have given it to Quill and got away with it, but he was a fair referee. He nearly let the way through and showed some fine imagination. But Gardner in the 5th and 11th and 12th rounds did great work and thus saved himself an adverse decision. Gardner didn't look as well as when he met McKinnon, but he was a better fighter. He had done so the event after another, in that gone beyond the fifth round. In that round Jimmie whipped a right to the jaw that put Quill down squarely. A moment later he shoved in a straight left and down went Quill. Had he wanted to, Quill then stalling and waiting for a counter, but Jimmie didn't have the steam to finish him. At long range fighting Gardner had it all over Quill and he banged away at Tommy's body until the latter was badly worried. But Quill soon saw the trouble and started to fight with his chin down and by rushing in and getting inside, before Jimmie could set and then did great mugging. When Jimmie showed up so much in the fifth the talent thought that he was playing possum and was laying back to let Quill fire himself before he could get in. But the talent was wrong. But as round followed round and the expected didn't happen it became evident that Gardner was up against a much cleverer little fighter than anyone expected. The talent were laying $100 to $400 on Gardner at the start and by the end they progressed the odds shifted to even money. In the next two rounds Gardner showed up strong, lay again and had Quill holding though both men were tired. Quill was out pointed but he carried the fight most of the way and did remarkable short work. Quill is a change little fighter and can take a good deal of punishment. Gardner hit him often on vital points but apparently did him no harm. Gardner went away down to 140 pounds but weighed in slightly under 142 the required weight. With the 142 he matched again and the little difference might make the sports men look to see Gardner carry off the honors.

FRIGHTFUL TRAGEDY

Woman Was Killed in an Elevator Accident

NEW YORK, June 8.—A frightful tragedy brought to an abrupt close yesterday afternoon the merry sightseeing trip of a number of young women from Kingston, N. Y., made the morning of Mrs. Charles M. Hall, daughter of Judge Allen B. Parker, who was killed in an elevator accident in the Flatiron building.

The young women were members of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Holy Cross church, of which the Rev. Charles M. Hall is rector. The outing was one of many similar trips arranged for the society by Mr. Hall and his wife. When it reached the city the party was divided. Mr. Hall taking some of the girls to the Aquarium, while Mrs. Hall started with the rest to see the sights uptown.

Just before they went to board the steamer for the return trip to Kingston, Mrs. Hall took the party with her into the Flatiron building.

Miss Schoonmaker never had entered the city before, and some of the girls were timid when they entered the first elevator in the tall building. All went in one car and were transported safely to the eighth floor.

When they entered the elevator for the down trip and the car fell rapidly, some of the girls were frightened and

BRIDGE MATTER

Alderman Connors Expresses His Views

Ald. Connors of the committee on streets in discussing the Cabot street bridge matter with a reporter for The Sun, yesterday, said:

"Object to Ald. Badger presiding at any meeting at which this matter is to be discussed. Inasmuch as he is employed by the Locks & Canals I think he ought to retire from the chair for the time being. I think that the Locks & Canals should stand part of the expense of the bridge and Mr. Badger maintains that the company which represents it is in no way responsible for the expense of a new bridge. Believing that way I think he ought not to preside at a meeting where the matter in question is to be discussed."

JOHN FLANAGAN HURLING HAMMER

174 FT. 3 3-8 INCHES, A NEW MARK

NEW YORK, June 8.—John Flanagan, the weight tossing champion of the Irish-American A. C. of New York, has at last fulfilled his heart's desire. It was to break the record with the sixteen pound hammer, using four turns instead of the customary three. Recently at Catic park, New York, Flanagan hurled the missile the remarkable distance of 174 feet 3 3/8 inches. This effort exceeds the former record made by Matt McGrath of the New York A. C. at Montreal, Canada, on Sept. 21, 1907, by eight and three-

DOUBLE HEADER

Played by Lowell and Lawrence Teams

There were about 500 fans at Washington park yesterday to witness the first double-header of the season, in which Lowell and Lawrence participated. There was a great kick on the part of the fans who were unaware that there was going to be a double header, it not having been properly advertised.

Lowell and Lawrence were in the points for Lowell while the battery for the down river team was Knetzer and Millerick. Manager Eason, who is a pitcher by occupation was covering first base for his team while Tom Catterton, late of the Brooklyn team, was playing in left garden and another new face in the lineup was that of Duggan, formerly of Worcester.

Jack Cameron who formerly pitched for Lowell, but who has been devoting his attention to sign painting was sketching a bull for the Bull Durham tobacco concern at the grounds this afternoon when Manager Eason got his eye on Jack and immediately signed him to play with Lawrence.

The visitors scored three more runs in the fifth inning. Catterton bunted the ball and beat it to first. He stole second and scored on Bean's hit. Bean stole second and Vinson struck out. Millerick bunted the ball for a two-base hit. Duggan hit through Vinson's legs and Vinson scored. Duval then made a wild pitch and Eason scored. Duggan stole second, but Roper fled to Bannan.

Lowell scored one run in the sixth. Vinson made a hit. Fitzpatrick drew a base on balls. Howard went out on a fly and Vinson scored on a hit by Duval.

The home team attempted to make a Garçon dash in the latter half of the ninth inning. Vinson opened with a single and Bannan followed with a base on balls. Massey hit to Vinson.

President Theobald was in town today looking into the situation. He heard many things.

Venable is playing a beautiful game at third. He goes after everything. It's a treat to watch Joe Boyle and Venable catch them off third.

Umpire McLaughlin still retains his operative pipes. He calls a ball in the lower register and a strike in the high register. The fans handed it to him in both registers yesterday as the result of a bad decision.

Terry McGovern's "Jay team" of Brockton has a rival in Tommy Quill, the mitt artist. All Brockton was at the Armory club last evening.

WON IN TWELFTH

Speaker and Niles Batted the Victory

BOSTON, June 8.—Speaker's single following Niles' three base hit in the 12th inning scored the winning run for Boston in the game with St. Louis yesterday. Errors and poor base running allowed the contest to go to extra innings, and sensational plays by Speaker, Niles and Speaker saved the game for the locals after the ninth. The score was Boston 4; St. Louis 3.

HAVERHILL HIGH

Trimmed Lowell in a Loose Game

The Lowell High team fell down badly yesterday at Haverhill and was beaten 11 to 6. There were bad errors on both sides that detracted from the enjoyment of the game.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Washington park has been engaged by Manager Shea of the Lowell Americans for Saturday of this week, and the team will line up against the Glenvale team of South Boston. This team is unanimously conceded to be the strongest semi-professional organization in New England and the local team will have to step some to win. These two teams were matched to meet last Saturday, but the game was postponed on account of the inclement weather. Both teams are confident of victory and an interesting and exciting exhibition is assured.

Hooley! Hooley! Hooley for the Young Beavers. The Young Beavers defeated the Nationals by score of 17 to 12. The Nationals thought they were going to beat us because what they could do in pitching. The Young Beavers' lineup is: Lybrand c, Taylor p, Underwood, the Wonderful baseman, Lannon ss, O'Hare 3b, Bowden 2b, sign at Washington park, yesterday when Mal Eason discovered him and signed him. Jack immediately dropped the paint brush and donned a uniform.

Many people were surprised upon arriving at the grounds about 3 o'clock to find a game half played.

President Theobald was in town today looking into the situation. He heard many things.

Venable is playing a beautiful game at third. He goes after everything. It's a treat to watch Joe Boyle and Venable catch them off third.

Umpire McLaughlin still retains his operative pipes. He calls a ball in the lower register and a strike in the high register. The fans handed it to him in both registers yesterday as the result of a bad decision.

Terry McGovern's "Jay team" of Brockton has a rival in Tommy Quill, the mitt artist. All Brockton was at the Armory club last evening.

WON IN TWELFTH

Speaker and Niles Batted the Victory

BOSTON, June 8.—Speaker's single following Niles' three base hit in the 12th inning scored the winning run for Boston in the game with St. Louis yesterday. Errors and poor base running allowed the contest to go to extra innings, and sensational plays by Speaker, Niles and Speaker saved the game for the locals after the ninth. The score was Boston 4; St. Louis 3.

PRESIDENT TAFT

May Not Veto the Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Senate and house leaders who are directing the course of the tariff bill through congress and who will be members of the conference on the bill after it has passed the senate, took measures yesterday to ascertain whether there was any foundation for reports that President Taft would veto the bill. They have reached the conclusion that there is no basis whatever for such reports.

Speaker Cannon, Sen. Aldrich and Rep. Payne, individually, have been in the past few days and they say it is no basis whatever for such reports.

Mr. Aldrich was at the White House yesterday and conferred with the president some time. When he returned to the capitol he told his colleagues that the president did not appear to be at all perturbed about the tariff situation and that he had expressed confidence in the members of the finance committee.

It was learned yesterday upon the highest authority that President Taft had not read the Chicago speech of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh before the secretary left Washington for Chicago and that the president was not aware of the character of the speech to be made. This does not mean that the president finds fault with Mr. MacVeagh's utterances, but merely answers the report that it was an official view of the tariff situation and that it expressed Mr. Taft's opinion.

1800 LIBRARIES

HAVE BEEN FOUNDED BY ANDREW CARNEGIE

NEW YORK, June 8.—Andrew Carnegie has founded 1800 public libraries representing donations aggregating $51,596,963, according to his own statement in the current number of Collier's Weekly. Up to December 31, 1908, the philanthropist says he erected in the United States 353 library buildings, with 208 branches, a cost of $34,370,745. England and Wales come second in the list with 325 buildings and 59 branches at a cost of $7,535,550.

Mr. Carnegie thinks that, considering the population of the two countries, he has done almost too much for Canada as the United States, having erected there 36 buildings and established five branches, at an outlay of $2,053,115. He says he is satisfied with the results of his expenditures in the library line.

ROGUES' GALLERY.

GENERAL CLEAN-UP TO TAKE PLACE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 8.—There may be a general clean-up of New York's rogues' gallery against many individuals who have protested against the appearance of their pictures there on the ground that they have never been convicted, may win out through Mayor McClellan's decision in the case of George Duffy, the Brooklyn boy, in whose behalf Supreme Justice Gaynor recently started a fight against the police commissioner.

The mayor has not made known his findings in the Duffy case, but it is generally understood that he has decided to order the removal of the boy's picture.

WM. H. BALDWIN

WELL KNOWN PHILANTHROPIST OF BOSTON DEAD

BOSTON, June 8.—The death occurred at his home in this city last night of Wm. Henry Baldwin, a well known philanthropist, who for more than 40 years, was president of the Young Men's Christian Union. The cause of his death was old age.

Mr. Baldwin was born in 1826 and in his early days was head of the firm of Baldwin, Barker & Curry, woolen importers and jobbers.

In 1868 he retired from the woolen business and took up the work of the Y. M. C. U., which he had assisted to organize in 1851. For 17 years he was president of the National Unitarian Society, and was a member of the Boston school board for several years. His wife was Mary Frances Augusta Chaffee, and of the union there were nine children.

TUFT'S MEDICAL SCHOOL

BOSTON, June 8.—The enthusiasm of the Alumni of Tuft's Medical school was raised to its highest last night by the announcement of President Hamilton that the trustees of the college had early yesterday voted to enlarge and remodel the medical school at the expense of $100,000.

The announcement was made at the annual banquet of the school alumni held at the Hotel Westminster.

Wm. R. Keeler was elected president of the association.

DEFEAT THE MEN WHO DEFEATED THE CHARTER BILL.

The city of Boston is to have a new charter through the good offices of the legislature. The politicians in Boston are opposed to the new charter just as the Lowell politicians were opposed to the recent charter bill for this city.

The city of Boston will be vastly benefited by a new charter that will simplify and systematize the administration of the city's affairs. Boston carries a heavy burden of debt as a result of extravagance in past years when there seemed to be very little attention paid to the methods of doing business. The new charter will make grafting a very difficult matter in the city of Boston if its provisions be properly carried out.

The city of Lowell is equally handicapped by an antiquated charter. The provisions of the new charter bill recently introduced in the legislature would have remedied many of the defects of the present charter and would probably have been adopted had it been submitted to the people. But the politicians got in their work and backed by a number of the Lowell representatives in the legislature, and even by Senator Hibbard, they were able to accomplish the defeat of the bill.

The people of Lowell should remember these legislators when they come up for re-election in the fall. They worked directly in opposition to the interests of our city and of their constituents when they favored the defeat of the charter, purely for political reasons. Every man of them who opposed the charter bill should be defeated if he comes up for re-election. That is the only way to secure a delegation to the legislature that will look after the interests of Lowell.

The board of trade spent a good deal of time in preparing the revised charter and beyond question the features of the bill were highly calculated to improve the government of our city. They centered responsibility on the mayor and gave him the power of appointing and removing most of the principal officials.

One of the important provisions was that the common council should be abolished leaving a single board of nine aldermen to transact the business now done by the city council. But the features of the measure are too well known to need any recital here. The bill was not defeated on its merits but because of political reasons, particularly the speculation that it might benefit this or that candidate, this or that political party. These are not the considerations by which the city of Lowell can be benefited. As a result of such political dickering our city is being held in the back-ground while other cities with no better opportunities are getting ahead of us. It is all because we do not elect the right kind of men to office.

When any public official betrays the interests of the city in this manner from unworthy motives he should be retired on the first opportunity. We shall have something to say in regard to each of the representatives who assisted in the defeat of the charter bill. It is too soon yet to particularize but we will refresh the memory of the voters as to the action of these men when the proper time comes.

BRITISH COLONIES TO BUILD NAVIES

The Dominion of Canada is to build eight cruisers for assisting England in the defense of the empire. Australia is also to build war vessels and to have a fleet, while New Zealand is already building battleships.

The ultimate end of this move on the part of the British colonies may be that just as soon as any dispute arises between them and the mother country, they may point to their battleships and use them in asserting their independence.

Canada's loyalty is not doubted at the present time, but a change is likely to come in the near future when she will want to shake off the yoke of England. Already Australia has aspirations in that direction and so has New Zealand. England will find in the long run that these colonies with fleets of their own will soon aspire for complete independence and grasp some favorable opportunity of taking their place among the nations of the earth.

BETTER TRAIN SERVICE.

Mayor Brown is to be congratulated upon his success in securing an improvement in the train service between Lowell and Boston. The trains to be added are greatly needed and especially a train leaving Lowell at 10 o'clock. For years people from other cities have been unwilling to come to Lowell in the evening because they could not get a train outward after 9.35. An express at 10 o'clock will be a welcome relief.

ARTHUR SAXON

REGARDED AS STRONGEST MAN IN WORLD

Since the arrival in America of Arthur Saxon, the strongest man in the world, and his two brothers, who are almost as strong as he, these three remarkable Germans have been interviewed by hundreds of magazine writers and scientists, who without a single exception, declare them to be the most wonderful men in point of strength the world has ever known. The Saxons are now being featured with Ringling Brothers' circus, and while the show was exhibiting in New York City last April, they gave a test in Madison Square Garden one afternoon, merely to demonstrate the fact that the weights and bells they use in their act weigh exactly what the advertisements state. At the meeting no special efforts were made, yet the three Saxons broke every world record for lifting and supporting weights.

The official weighers and judges were Gilman Lowe, editor of Health magazine; Warren O. Travis, champion light-weight back lifter of the United States; Herbert H. Lome, editor of Physical Culture magazine;

Prof. A. F. Schmidt, Prof. H. W. Titus and Edward F. Broderick. Arthur Saxon lifted with his right hand high above his head a 312-pound bar bell, apparently with no effort. The little group of physical culture experts applauded with surprise and congratulated the giant. He had broken a world's record, which Louis Cyr, a Canadian, had held for 20 years. Cyr's lift was only 273 pounds.

Later Saxon, lying upon his back, supported with his feet a plank upon which sat 15 men, their combined weight being 2235 pounds, while with his hands he held up three men and a bar bell, making the combined weight just 3155 pounds. "I do that, also twice a day," said Saxon, modestly.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Mayor Busse of Chicago has recommended longer office hours for city jobbers. He is of the opinion that municipal office holders should give as good service as is to be found in private corporations. Mayor Busse has advised that councils establish official hours from 8 o'clock till noon, and from 1 o'clock until 5 in the afternoon.

Orville Wright since his accident at Fort Myer, has not made any flights; but he is to resume the carrying out of the very difficult government contract next month. This involves a ten-mile cross country flight across a deep valley, which is something the like of which has never been accomplished even by Wilbur Wright during all the 3000 miles he has flown abroad, although he has at times risen more than 350 feet in height tests over smooth ground. In cross country flying, however, both Farman and Bleriot so far hold the records.

Adrian Osuna, director of public education, has asked the state government of Coahuila, Mexico, to enact an order prohibiting school teachers and children from attending ball fights. Senator Osca believes that witnessing such brutal exhibitions as bull fighting tends to harden the minds of students and make them unfit for citizenship.

President Taft's portrait by Sorolla, the noted Spanish painter, has been taken to Cincinnati and installed in the famous private art gallery of the president's brother, Charles P. Taft. It is not known what price C. P. Taft paid the artist, but it is said to be in five or six figures.

William Redmond, member of Parliament, reviewing the appalling conditions of the unemployed in the large cities of England, says: "Happy are the men and women who never drift to the cities at all; happy the laborer in his cottage in the country; happy the cottager with his little plot of land. They at least have the peace and glory of God's free air about them. They may have scanty food of the poorest, but they are spared the misery of the workman of the town, who finds his own poor position accentuated a hundred fold when he sees around him wealth, the richest parcels of which would mean salvation for him and his."

BILLERICA

The North Billerica fire department met last night in the engine house of the company. No action was taken on the matter of reducing the membership of the company from 28 to 18 men, which was ordered by the fire engine crew a week ago.

Prior to the meeting the company from the North village was summoned to the Bridge road where there was a brush fire in progress. The fire burned over about ten acres of land before it was extinguished.

PICNIC POSTPONED
The picnic which was to have been held by the Women's auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herbert E. Fletcher in Westford has been postponed owing to the accident with which Miss Hazel Fletcher met yesterday. The young lady was thrown from her bicycle and struck on her head rendering her unconscious. It was at first believed that the injury was serious, but she soon recovered consciousness and it is expected that she will be all right in a few days.

HORSES BURNED

RESCUING HORSES FROM THE BURNING STABLE

In Stanley Co's Barn on Middlesex Street

Several Horses Rescued but Four Perished—Barn a Total Loss—Cause of Fire Unknown

Four horses perished in a fire that gutted the old Stanley stable in Middlesex street, near Washington base-ball park, last night. The first alarm of fire was given by the steam engines that were on the tracks close by. They whistled for all they were worth and continued to whistle while the fire bells were ringing. At about 9:45 an alarm sounded from box 15 at the corner of Middlesex and School streets and the flames rolling up toward the sky gave promise of a big conflagration and in that vicinity there is good food for flames.

The firemen's response to the alarm, however, seemed almost instantaneous. In the barn being practically in the open gave the firemen an opportunity to cover it quickly and completely.

The stable was owned by the G. E. Stanley transportation company, and was leased to Charles McCarthy of the New England Laundry Co. The stable contained about 20 stalls and nine horses belonging to the laundry were there when the fire started. Other horses in the stable at the time included two "U. S. Mail" horses that were used in the transportation of the mails back and forth between the post-office and the depot; one belonging to the Independent Beef & Provision Co., and one belonging to William H. Baird, an employee of the Daniel Gile Co. The last four perished in the flames.

In the stable were also stored several wagons, harnesses and three tons of hay. The wagons and harnesses were saved but the hay went up in smoke.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Thomas Qualey, a driver for the New England laundry, said he had left the stable not more than 10 minutes before the fire was discovered and everything was all right then; he could not conceive of any cause for the fire. The total loss including the horses was estimated at about $2500.

The insurance on the stable was carried by Frank M. Bregan.

FELL INTO CANAL

Small Boy Drowned While at Play

Willie Belanger, aged 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Belanger of 188 West street was drowned in the Merrimack canal in Anne street near the Merrimack mills.

The boy was playing on a raft used during the day by the employees of the Locks and Canals Co. Two little boys named McKinnon, living in Maiden Lane, were on the raft with him and according to their story the Belanger boy tried to walk along the end of the raft on one foot slipping the other in the water and losing his balance fell into the water.

The McKinnon boys gave the alarm and ran to Willie's home to tell his mother. Twenty minutes later Herbert Taylor of 1 Dutton street recovered the body by means of a long sap-plier on the end of a long pole. The body was removed in the ambulance to the boy's home. He is survived by his parents, six sisters and a brother.

NEW PASTOR

TENDERED RECEPTION BY PEOPLE OF HIS PARISH

The friends and members of the Westminster Presbyterian church, gave a most enjoyable reception to their newly installed pastor, Rev. S. A. Jackson, in the church auditorium last night. In the receiving line were Mrs. Jackson and his wife, Mrs. M. and Mrs. D. G. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Walker, Rev. Pastor A. Macdonald, pastor of the Fifth Street Baptist church, and others.

Remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Jackson, Rev. F. A. Macdonald, Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the First Methodist church, Rev. J. H. Fuller, James H. Loring, and others.

Mr. Adams resides in Lowell and the management of the Canobie lake theatre is fortunate in having secured the services of such an efficient and painstaking attaché as Mr. Adams. His popularity is in no small measure responsible for the large attendance at the Canobie lake theatre in Lawrence which has a large following of friends who were highly attracted to the downy river city. His Lowell friends wish him every success in his new field of work.

JOHN F. ADAMS

HAS ACCEPTED POSITION AT CANOBIE LAKE

The many friends of John F. Adams, the popular treasurer of the Colonial theatre, will be pleased to know that he is to be located at Canobie lake the coming season. He has been connected with the Colonial for the past few seasons and in the performance of his duties he has come in contact with many Lawrence, Lowell and Haverhill people, with whom he stands in high favor. He will be associated with Mr. Lores in managing the theatre at Canobie lake, where a stock company is to be put on during the summer months—Lawrence Eagle.

alone, nor by individuals alone; all must work together.

"Since the railroads are among the largest consumers of wood, they will suffer heavily from the much higher prices and the actual scarcity of timber which will occur if our forests are not conserved. Railroad companies can most advantageously undertake both the growing of timber and the economical utilization of the product. They have a steady demand for timber, the extent of which can be largely anticipated, and they need much small timber of kinds which can be grown in a relatively short time.

"Each railroad has its own special timber problems which must be worked out to meet the river conditions. At the same time there are certain lines of general policy which can be profitably adopted by many roads. They are:

"1. The use of chemically treated ties wherever possible.

"2. The use of so-called inferior woods, as, for example, black gum and loblolly pine, for ties, which will reduce the drain on white oak, and which is entirely practicable if the ties are treated.

"3. The purchase and management of land bearing mature timber which can be used immediately, and of seed growth timber which will meet the needs of the future. Such lands if properly managed will insure a perpetual supply of ties and lumber at the cost of production.

"4. The planting of trees upon nonagricultural land owned by the company, which does not now contain sufficient young growth to produce a timber crop.

"5. Co-operation with other roads in the adoption of standard specifications for ties and timber and for the treatment of them. Co-operation with timberland owners and the States in fire prevention, and in bringing about conditions which shall make the practice of forestry profitable.

"These are in substance the recommendations of the sub-committee on Forest Supplies of the American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way Association. The adoption of these recommendations and the appointment of technical men to carry them out will, it seems to me, be wise action for any railroad. The influence of their general adoption would be far reaching and most beneficial.

"I should be very glad to discuss the matter more in detail with you at your convenience, or to be of use in any other way."

Responses which show much interest are being received, and it is presumed that definite action along the lines mentioned will result.

STAR THEATRE

The camraphone acts, including Stella Mayhew of "Comin' Thro' the Rye" fame, Cameron and Gordon in their "Sunset Serenade" and the big "Amateur Night" with new motion pictures, since Monday, was on the program at the Star Theatre this afternoon.

Eva Tanguay, the world's highest paid female vaudeville performer, will be on tomorrow's camraphone bill. The show can't be matched anywhere in the country for five cents, which includes a seat. There is the camraphone, a four piece orchestra, a singing orchestra of six voices, choice illustrated songs and latest motion pictures. The theatre is as cool as a flower in a shady nook. Electric fans are buzzing all the time. The theatre is equipped with the best ventilating system in Lowell.

MANAGER MCCANN DEPOSED

THE MARGARET

WINNER OF THE RACE TO BERMUDA

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 9.—So far as can be ascertained the schooner Margaret, owned by George S. Runk of New York, has won the sailing race from New York to Bermuda by about four and a half hours. Three of the yachts crossed the finish mark, off St. David's Head, yesterday afternoon, in one of the most remarkable contests that has ever taken place on the sea.

Less than two minutes separated the schooner Amoria, owned by Dr. W. L. Damm of Chicago, and the Margaret. The former was first over the line, the Margaret had an allowance of four hours and thirty minutes and finished right on the Amoria's heels, the Margaret proved the winner on her allowance.

The schooner Crusader II, owned by Edwin Palmer of the Atlantic Yacht Club, came over the line 30 minutes and 22 seconds after the Margaret.

The start was made from Gravesend Bay at 10 a. m. Saturday and the finishing times were as follows:

Amoria, 4:19:15.
Margaret, 4:21:12.
Crusader II, 5:09:07.

The Amoria allowed the Crusader II an hour and thirty minutes and the Margaret had three hours' allowance of Crusader II. Up to dark the schooner Marchioness, owned by G. P. Crozier of the Yachtsmen's club, which has an allowance of 24 hours from the Amoria, and the schooner Restless, owned by Dr. L. S. Sharp, also of the Yachtsmen's Club, which has an allowance of 45 hours and 45 minutes, had not been sighted. As the schooner had a racing length of only 67 feet and the schooner 28 feet, it was not expected that they would be able to overlap their larger rivals.

Nothing has been heard from the power boats which started from Gravesend bay at 4:35 Saturday afternoon. It was thought here that the leader of these boats would reach the finish before the sailing yachts, but the latter were favored by excellent breezes and a comparatively smooth sea, of which they took full advantage.

A PRESENT

FROM LYDIA DARRAH CHAPTER TO MRS. NEALE

The members of the Lydia Darrah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, with their husbands and friends were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Neale at their home in Beacon street, last night.

After the guests had assembled the following program was carried out: Reception by Carter Hoyt, "Grandma's Foot Stoves" solos by Mrs. Geo. H. Morse, accompanied by Miss Morse; "The Rising in 1776," Mrs. James McKinley; "Colonial Amusements," written by Mrs. Elizabeth Gage and read by Mrs. D. L. Page; "My Flag," Miss Molly Fleming.

At the conclusion of the above program Mrs. McKinley surprised Mrs. Neale by presenting her in behalf of the chapter a beautiful silver sandwich plate and tongs.

Refreshments were served after which a "white elephant" party was held.

Everyone was supposed to carry some article that had become a "white elephant" on his hands and trade it with someone else. As the articles were all carefully wrapped and the trading had to be done "sight unseen," there was great amusement when the packages were opened. If not satisfied with the first trade, everyone was allowed to rewrap his article and trade again. All enjoyed the entertainment greatly and expressed their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Neale for the pleasant occasion.

A RECEPTION

TO INMATES OF THE OLD LADIES' HOME.

The ladies of the Old Ladies' Home in Fletcher street were tendered a reception yesterday afternoon by Miss Grace A. Wood of 171 Liberty street. About 25 of the inmates of the home left on a special car while those who were unable to take the car were conveyed in carriages to the home of Miss Wood.

The party arrived at its destination at 3 o'clock and remained till 5:30 o'clock. During the stay at the house the ladies were entertained in various

Humbugs and Frauds Must Go

The day is going, and going fast, and going forever, when unscrupulous men can openly humbug and defraud the public with fake preparations for the hair. The day is close at hand when no sane man or woman will put anything on their hair or head unless they know exactly what it is. People are realizing more and more that hair and scalp troubles generally are overcome by simply keeping the scalp clean. Dandruff, as a rule, is a condition arising from neglect to cleanse the scalp regularly with the proper cleanser. From the pores of the scalp there comes an oily secretion, together with used-up cells and other waste matter that Nature is through with and throws off. The oily secretion is intended to keep the scalp soft and the hair lustrous. But the trouble is that dirt and disease germs float around in the air and settle on this oily matter, which holds them fast. In a short time scales or dandruff form on the scalp, and the pores become clogged. The hair roots do not receive the proper nourishment, and soon the hair falls out, sometimes so badly that baldness is only a little way off. You resort to hair "tonics," "invigorators" and

"growers" but the trouble remains just the same. In time you try everything of the sort you hear of, and in the end you realize that your money has been thrown away. Soaps and shampoos generally do not help you, because they remove the oily secretion, leave the scalp and hair dry, and rob it of the very thing Nature intended to soften the scalp and give lustre to the hair. There is now sold in the drug stores a preparation called Birt's Head Wash that is fast finding favor because the ingredients of which it is made are printed on each package. They are as follows: Refined Soap, Glycerin, White of Eggs, Salicylic Acid and Cocoon Cocoon Oil. Be sure and show this formula to your doctor or druggist, and ask his opinion of it. The Cocoon Cocoon Oil in Birt's Head Wash takes the place of the oily secretion supplied by Nature. When you are through using this Head Wash, your hair will be lustrous, and your scalp soft, smooth and clean. Follow this rule: Don't put a drop of anything on your head unless they know exactly what it is, and your hair troubles will be a thing of the past. Price 50 cents at all druggists.

NEW DEATH DEALING RAPID FIRE GUN SOON TO BE TESTED BY THE U. S. ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 9.—A new automatic rapid fire gun recently tested at Cleveland, O., and soon to have a further test by ordinance experts of the government promises to revolutionize field artillery. The weapon is known as the McClean-Lissak automatic gun and is made in three sizes—three pounder, firing solid shot or bursting shell, 100 shots a minute, with a range of three and a half miles; one pounder, firing similar projectiles, 150 a minute, with a range of three miles, and 50 caliber, firing 350 shots a minute, with a range of two miles. The smaller and larger types of the gun are shown in the accompanying illustration. The three pounder, the largest automatic gun ever made, is mounted on an automobile truck. There is no recoil

ANNUAL MEETING OF Y. W. C. A. Held Last Evening

The Young Women's Christian association held its annual election of officers at the rooms in John street, with a large attendance and a delightfully novel program of exercises was held in connection with the meeting. After the election the remainder of the evening was devoted to pleasure and even department and club connected with the association contributed to the program. Over 150 young women and girls took part in the program.

The evening started with a grand march of the members of the association and their guests from the gymnasium to Kilton hall, where the exercises were held.

Then came the presentation of the yearly reports by Mrs. J. F. Gibson, the secretary, and Mrs. Burton H. Wiggin, the treasurer. The association has a membership of 500 and more, and though this is a slight decrease over last year yet it shows a healthy normal growth in the regular membership.

The treasurer's report was gratifying to the membership. It showed among other things a good balance to the credit of the association in the treasury.

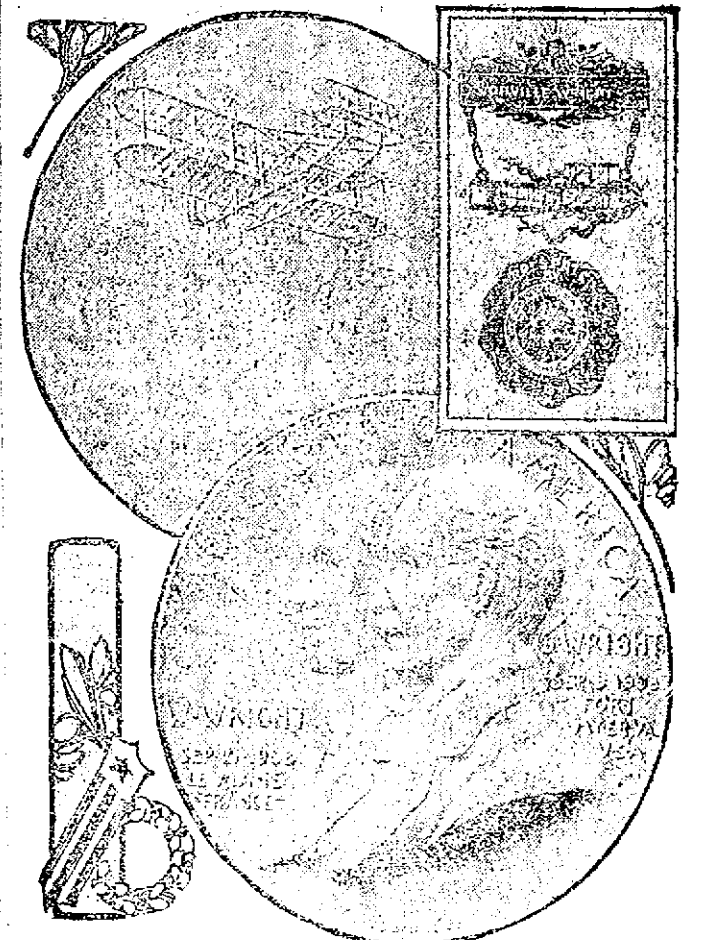

Following the reports came the election of officers. No presiding was

These elected for one year are Mrs. C. H. Thompson and Mrs. A. P. French. After the election the "stunts" as they were called were in order.

The religious department contributed a pleasant quartet. The Comfort club presented an animated charade giving the name of the organization. The Dads of Frontiers sang a song and the Kappa club presented an amusing sketch called "The Sewing Circle".

The Olympic club gave the "Team Spirit" and the gymnast club went through a drill illustrating their work in athletic lines. The Home club gave "Looking Backward," a play which was taken to a dramatic and was as amusing as it was delightful. The Olympic club took for its feature, "The Fiddlers." This play was taken from the ranks of the new association camp on the Concord river, and its presentation demanded the use of a tent and other camping accessories. The sketch, for sketch it was, was one of the best of the evening.

The Educational club gave a skit, the sketch entitled "The Fiddlers." This was universally refreshing. The evening closed with a general social hour and the serving of refreshments. The combination of business and amusement made the occasion of the election the best ever held at the association.

PREPARED INSTANTLY. Slightly dry, but very cool and serve. 10c per package at 10c per dozen. Refuse all substitutes.

AN ITCHING PALM

No Cure for It. Other Forms of Itching Preferable.

There is no cure for an itching palm. The money kind. Even possum, the new skin discovery, cannot help it. But when it comes to eczema, the most annoying of itching skin troubles, possum will stop the itching at once and cure the worst cases in a few days. So with itches, rash, eczema, spots, rashes, and so on, all of which are different forms of eczema, accompanied by severe itching and caused by imperfect digestion and careless diet.

Possum comes in two-dollar jars, but fifty cents worth will answer in curing any of the disease mentioned. It can be had of any druggist. Pills & Burkinshaw and Carter & Sherburne make a specialty of it.

That results are immediate will be amply demonstrated overnight by the use of the experimental sample which the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-ninth street, New York City, will send free by mail, in plain wrapper to any one who will write for it.

EXTRA

SUED FOR $350,000

Court Decided Against the Adgar Packing Company

DES MOINES, Ia., June 8.—Judge Hough of the district court of Iowa rendered a decision today adversely to the Adgar Packing company which had sued the Rock Island R. R. Co. for $350,000 for rebating and unjust rates. The suit involved the question of what constituted a continuous shipment, in the purchase of extra and hog and western Iowa a re-shipment and a re-

FRIGHTFUL TRAGEDY

Woman Was Killed in an Elevator Accident

NEW YORK, June 8.—A frightful tragedy brought to an abrupt close yesterday afternoon the merry sightseeing trip of a number of young women from Kingston, N. Y., under the chaperonage of Mrs. Charles M. Hall, daughter of Judge Alton B. Parker, when Mrs. Lydia Schoonmaker was instantly killed in an elevator accident in the Flatiron building.

The young women were members of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Holy Cross church, of which the Holy Chastity M. Hall is pastor. The outing was one of many similar trips arranged for the society by Mr. Hall and his wife. When it reached the city the party was divided. Mr. Hall taking some of the girls to the Aquarium, while Mrs. Hall started with the rest to see the sights uptown.

Just before they went to board the steamer for the return trip to Kingston, Mrs. Hall took the party with her into the Flatiron building.

Miss Schoonmaker never had visited the city before, and some of the girls were timid when they entered the fast elevator in the tall building. All went in one car and were transported safely to the eighth floor.

When they entered the elevator for the down trip and the car fell rapidly, some of the girls were frightened and

DOUBLE HEADER

Played by Lowell and Lawrence Teams

There were about 200 fans at Washington park this afternoon to witness the first double-header of the season, in which Lowell and Lawrence participated. There was a great kick on the part of the fans who were unaware that there was going to be a double header, it not having been properly advertised.

Dugal and Boyle were in the points for Lowell while the battery for the down river team was Knepper and Millerick. Manager Eason, who is a pitcher by occupation was covering first base for his team while Tom Caterson, late of the Brooklyn team, was playing in left garden and another new face in the lineup was that of Duggan, formerly of Worcester.

Jack Cameron who formerly pitched for Lowell, but who has been devoting his attention to sign painting was sketching a bull for the Bull Durham tobacco concern at the grounds this afternoon when Manager Eason got his eye on Jack and immediately signed him to play with Lawrence.

In the first inning Dugal made some of the fans sit up and take notice by striking out three men.

Lawrence scored two runs in the fourth inning. Vinson opened with a single and went to second on a sacrifice by Millerick. Eason hit to Fitzpatrick, who reached first, and then Vinson went to third, Flynn hit to Lowell and was out at first. Duggan hit through Flynn's legs and Vinson scored. Dugal then made a wild pitch and Eason scored. Duggan stole second, but Roper filed to Bannion.

Lowell scored one run in the latter half of the inning. Venable and Fitzpatrick struck out. Howard got a single and scored on a two-bagger by Flynn. Bannion drove a base on balls and then Dugal stole third. Eason and Flynn hit to work a double steal but Flynn was tagged at the plate.

The visitors scored three more runs in the fifth inning. Caterson bunted the ball and beat it to first. He stole second and scored on Dean's hit. Bear stole second and Vinson struck out. Millerick batted the ball for a two-bagger and Bear scored. Eason followed with another two-bagger and Caterson scored. Flynn singled and Millerick scored. Flynn singled and Eason went to third. Flynn and Eason selection took place at Valley Junction. The rate charged was the Valley Junction rate to Boston, disregarding the local rate from point of origin to Valley Junction. The court held it was a continuous shipment and that that packing company had no claim for refunding of charges made to the company for carrying its western Iowa business.

BARONESS URU

Attended Class Day at Vassar

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 8.—Coming from faraway Japan to visit the college from which she was graduated, the Baroness Uru, wife of Rear Admiral Uru of the Japanese navy, attended the class day exercises at Vassar today. She was accompanied by her husband. They were met here by Prof. William Bancroft, fill of the Vassar faculty whose guests they are to be during their visit here. The baroness was anxious to walk over the grounds and see the many new buildings which have been erected since her graduation. This was done before luncheon. She met but few familiar faces as the faculty had been all changed since she was a student.

The visit of the distinguished Japanese is quite as informal as that of any other of the people who are here for commencement. They attended the class day exercises this afternoon. After dinner at Prof. Hill's house they will assist President and Mrs. Taylor in receiving at the annual reception at the college tonight. Tomorrow they will attend commencement exercises and in the afternoon they will return to New York.

BRIDGE MATTER

Alderman Connors Expresses His Views

Ald. Connors of the committee on streets in discussing the Cabot street bridge matter with a reporter for The Sun, today said:

"I object to Ald. Badger presiding at any meeting at which this matter is to be discussed, inasmuch as he is employed by the Locks & Canals. I think he ought to retire from the chair for the time being. I claim that the Locks & Canals should stand part of the expense of the bridge and Mr. Badger maintains that the company which he represents is in no way responsible for the expense of a new bridge. Believing that way I think he ought not to preside at a meeting where the matter in question is to be discussed."

GEORGIA STRIKE

To be Submitted to Arbitration

ATLANTA, Ga., June 8.—The strike of the Georgia railroad firemen for seniority of the whites over the negroes passed formally today into the arbitration stage when the firemen announced Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia as their arbitrator under the Erdman act. They announced that the Georgia railroad yesterday refused offers of compromise on the negro question.

LOCAL LAWYER

Says Letourneau Met With Foul Play

Lawyer Edward Tierney, of this city and Medical Examiner Dow and Inspector Spence, the two latter of Lawrence, spent the afternoon at the police station in Lawrence, in conference relative to the finding of the body of Joseph Letourneau in the Merrimack river Sunday.

Lawyer Tierney is firm in the belief that Letourneau met with foul play and is urging the Lawrence police to make every effort to apprehend the murderer.

AN EARTHQUAKE

IN THE VICINITY OF NORTHERN CHILE

WASHINGTON, June 8.—An earthquake officially estimated at 400 miles distant, possibly in either the vicinity of northern Chile or the Altiplano, was recorded at the weather bureau early today. The shock was well defined and of moderate intensity and began 5 minutes and 12 seconds after midnight. For over an hour the disturbance continued although its amplitude of the oscillations was comparatively small. The second preliminary tremors began at 1:05 a. m.

TAYLOR SUIT SETTLED

NEW YORK, June 8.—The suit which Dr. Carl J. Schirack of Cedarhurst, L. I., brought against Father J. Taylor for $200 for professional services to Mr. Taylor and his family, has been dropped from the calendar.

It was expected that when this supreme court trial at Minerva yesterday there would be some sensational feature to it.

Dr. Schirack alleged that the amount was due for services during the year 1908. Mr. Taylor refused to settle the bill.

LATEST GREAT REUNION

Of the Confederate Army Opened in Memphis Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 5.—That portion of Memphis which went to sleep at all, last night, awoke early this morning to the "yip yip" of the famous old rebel yell, marking the opening of the Confederate reunion. The day began at 9 o'clock when the lamps around the Foster monument were dedicated with pretty ceremonies by Mary Latham chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. Then at 10 o'clock the reunion began at the Bijou theatre. Major General McDowell called the assembly to order and introduced Gov. Patterson who delivered the formal address of welcome. Gen. Clement Evans, commander in chief of the Confederate Veterans made the response and the roll call of the states began for the naming of committees on credentials and resolutions.

DIED OF POISON

Suitor of Girl is Suspected by the Police

GOVERNOR, N. Y., June 5.—The sudden death in her home at De Grasse of Miss Lella Hamilton, nineteen years old, one of the most popular girls in St. Lawrence county, develops into a murder mystery, with a plot of diabolical cruelty, or a suicide under most distressing circumstances.

Suspicion rests upon a prominent young man, her playmate in childhood and later a favored suitor. It is believed he bought the poison, which brought quick and terrible death, telling the girl it was a harmless drug.

Apparently happy, the girl with implicit confidence in him, although he dishonored her, secretly took the drug. A few minutes later, in the presence of her parents, she fell to the floor, dying, before a physician could be called.

Death came to Miss Hamilton Friday. That such an athletic girl should die in such a manner caused Coroner Drury to order an autopsy. His physician reports that the girl died of arsenic poisoning, and an investigation is under way.

The suspect is under surveillance and will be arrested if he attempts to leave the county.

The meagre disclosures have thoroughly aroused the community. The case is being talked of as a parallel one to that of Chester Gillette and unfortunate "Bill" Brown, only that Gillette lured the girl to a lonely spot and murdered her, while it is believed that

SENATOR SMOOT RACING YACHTS

Says Woolen Industry Has Expired

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Reverting to the criticism made yesterday by Mr. Aldrich concerning republicans who have not supported the recommendations of the committee on finance, Senator Beveridge had read in the senate today a resolution of the executive committee of the Indiana republican association endorsing the attitude of the senior senator from Indiana on the subject of tariff.

Senators Warren and Smoot maintained that the admission into this country of top waste and kindred wools supplanted just that amount of American wool. Mr. Warren insisted that rags and shoddy could come into the United States under the lower duty advocated by the senator from Iowa.

"So long," responded Mr. Doliver, "as many people are obliged to do without woolen clothing in cold weather it is better to have the old and short wool obtained from such rags to make their clothing than to have no woolen clothing at all."

Meeting the statement of Mr. Doliver concerning the closing down of woolen mills because of the high duty on these forms of wool consumed by them, Mr. Smoot declared that as a former manufacturer of woolen goods whose mill had closed down he knew the industry had largely expired because of a change of fashion from woolen clothing.

THIRD READING

For the B. & M. Holding Bill

BOSTON, June 5.—The Boston Holding Co's bill which provides for the formation of a company to hold the Boston & Maine stock now controlled by John L. Billard of Meriden, Ct., was ordered to a third reading in the Massachusetts senate without division today. An amendment offered by Senator Cowee of Worcester on a substitute bill was first rejected by a voice vote.

SURPRISE PARTY

The young friends and school mates of Miss Agnes De Roche gave her a very pleasant surprise last Friday evening. The gift which was a sum of money, was presented by Master Thomas Baxter and Miss Lucy Sharkey read the compliment. During the evening refreshments were served and a good time was enjoyed by all. There were about twenty guests. Miss Mary Dillon, Frances Parker, Mary Ellen Sullivan, Adeline Doyle and social sales by Master John Harrison and others, and last before the evening closed a resolution was given by Miss Catherine Kenney.

D. F. Sullivan, the card dealer, is distributing a neat little clip that can be attached to the telephone for holding a writing pad.

WAR ON FOSTER

Asked to Resign From the Ministry

CHICAGO, June 5.—Professor George B. Foster of the University of Chicago was called upon yesterday at a meeting of the Baptist preachers of Chicago by the Rev. Johnstone Myers, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, to withdraw from the Baptist ministry and to yield up his ordination papers.

Professor Foster's writings, denounced by some as "a bitter indictment of the Christian religion before the bar of skepticism," have harrowed the clergy of Chicago.

The fire of criticism was directed chiefly at Professor Foster's recent book "The Function of Religion."

The motion was put before several hundred preachers and laymen gathered at the conference of the Baptist Executive Council and only the objection of one man, Professor A. K. Parker, who, like Professor Foster, is an instructor at the University of Chicago, prevented the eviction of the author of "The Function of Religion."

Professor Parker called attention to a constitutional provision preventing action without a week's deliberation. The matter was postponed until June 14.

It was after Professor Foster had been characterized as "an undesirable Baptist" and as a teacher who "would debase the church and defy evolution" that the effort to eject him from the councils of the denomination was made.

"Professor Foster declared," said the Rev. W. A. Matthews of the Tabernacle Baptist church, in a review of the recent book penned by Professor Foster, "that one who calls himself a believer in the Bible is a knave."

"Then, thank heaven, I am a knave!" "I ask you, how that word is spelled?" interrupted Professor Parker. "K-n-a-v-e," replied the speaker.

"If you will pardon the correction," observed Professor Parker, "I have the book in my hand and the word is spelled 'N-a-s-i-v-e.'"

"Professor Foster states in his book," continued Mr. Matthews, "that God did not make man in his own image, but that man made God in his own image. He says we are not fallen angels but developed animals. He says that miracles have always been the refuge of ignorance and that modern technique must take the place of magic. I wonder what he means by 'modern technique'?"

TIRADE AGAINST THE CLERGY

"He declares that science has undermined the trinity—of course, that is in his own mind. He says that Jesus was a child in his time and that to copy Jesus is to kill the soul. He makes a tirade against the clergy. He says that the book of humanity is greater than the Bible."

"The title of his book should be 'Religion Without Christianity.' He is guilty of the supreme sin of ranking self greater than Christ. He styles our grand old book as the 'relic' and 'remains of the Christian religion.'"

Through it all Professor Foster's 17-year-old son sat with his head bowed and his hands clasped in prayer.

"Why don't you review it," he asked and the man?

After the meeting Dr. Parker said that whatever action might be taken by the preachers would not affect Professor Foster's relations with the University of Chicago.

SUPREME COURT $30,000,000 SUIT

Issues Writ of Prohibition Against Counsel for the Defendant Restored Their Case

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 5.—The Missouri supreme court today issued a writ of prohibition against Judge George Williams of the St. Louis circuit court forbidding him from proceeding with the injunction by which Circuit Attorney Jones of that city sought to prevent certain railways from putting a three-cent passenger fare into effect. The decision by the state's highest court in the case of the St. Louis & North Western railway, which had ignored Judge Williams' temporary restraining order, Circuit Attorney Jones had been enjoined from proceeding in the suit by the United States district court in Kansas City several weeks ago.

The action of today leaves but two cases pending in the tangled litigation between the railways of Missouri and the state authorities. The first is the state's appeal from the decision by Judge Smith McPherson of the United States district court in which that judge declared against the unreasonableness of the statute. The second is the quo warranto proceedings which Attorney General Major instituted before the supreme court asking that fifteen railways be ousted from the state and their charters be revoked because they had entered into the rate agreement.

THE CENTENARY

Anniversary Observed in Detroit Today

DETROIT, Mich., June 5.—The centenary of the introduction of the printing art into the old Northwest territory was celebrated today in the Detroit museum of art. One hundred years ago Eva Gabriel Richard, one of the pioneer French priests of the northwest established in this city the first printing press that was brought into this section of the United States.

Editors and public men from many parts of the state with hundreds of citizens of Detroit, attended the centenary exercises. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press made the principal address of the celebration. Among the other speakers were Lawton T. Hemans of Mason, Mich., former democratic candidate for governor; Father Ernest Van Dyke of the church that sent Father Richard into the wilderness; Librarian Uley, Mrs. Beatrice Larned Withney and William Stocking of Detroit.

Father Richard's primitive press on which was run off not only the first newspaper published in the Northwest territory, the Michigan Globe, or Impartial Observer, but also the first school books and religious publications, was brought over the mountains from Baltimore. Crude as it was the press was kept in service until the '50's. The Michigan Essay or Impartial Observer had but a short life. It was a four-page weekly and folded up size.

Father Richard died in Detroit during the cholera epidemic in 1832. He is buried in the crypt of St. Anne's church of which parish he was the head for many years.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Counsel for the American Sugar Refining Co., the defendant in the $30,000,000 suit brought by the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Co., rested their case today after calling the witnesses and introducing a mass of documentary evidence. Judge Smith McPherson of the United States district court, in presenting a motion to direct a verdict for the defendant, Wallace Willett, publisher of the sugar journal, was the only witness called by the defense. Mr. Willett, counsel for the American company, went over with the witnesses the quotations on sugar for the years since 1903 and had him point out to the jury that a decline in refined sugar invariably followed the opening of a new and independent refinery.

STILL ALIVE

BUT EX-SHERIFF CALLAHAN IS PARALYZED

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 5.—Edward Callahan, the head leader who was shot yesterday when he attempted to assassinate his entire family in Breathitt county, was still alive this morning, but he is paralyzed from the waist down and likely to die at any time.

No capture has been made although bloodhounds have been trailing the men from the place of ambush all night. Members of the Callahan clan are said to be gathering at his house and a reopening of feud troubles is expected.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

ALBANY, N. Y., June 5.—Hercules White of New York, chairman of the committee appointed last December by Gov. FIRE IN STEAMER

NEW YORK, June 5.—A fire in the stateroom of the steamer Yale on the Metropolitan line as she was on her way from Boston to this city today did slight damage. In some way a mattress in the state room occupied by Louis B. Metcalf of 108 University road, Brookline, Mass. Ignited and although the fire was quickly extinguished Mr. Metcalf sustained burns about the neck, face and head sufficient to cause his removal to St. Vincent's hospital on the steamer's arrival here. As soon as the Yale had discharged her passengers and freight she steamed to the Erie basin where the officials of the company stated she was to have her hull scraped and her propeller repaired. The police reported that the fire was ignited by a lighted cigarette.

BREAK DISHES

Is the Order Given by Rabbi

NORTH ADAMS, June 8.—Rabbi Kavalovsky, head of the seceding Jewish church of this city, has ordered many dishes owned by the members of his flock either destroyed or put away for good. The reason is that they were defiled by meat killed by Minister Kaplan, head of the regular church, whom he does not recognize as a person qualified to kill meat for use by Jews.

Minister Kaplan had gone to Pittsfield and killed a beef there. Some of this beef was to be sent to this city for sale here. The Pittsfield party, in whose keeping it was, forgot the address and telephoned for information as to where to ship the beef. He got the name of the kosher meat dealer for the seceding church and sent a quarter of the beef to him. He put it on sale, having been expecting authorized meat from another source.

After most of the beef had been sold and used the news about its origin got abroad, and it was found that Rabbi Kavalovsky himself had partaken of some of it. Then there was consternation and strict orders issued about purification.

AGONY OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible agony I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost as much as a head of a pig. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sores on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so inflamed and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as tea to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has a skin trouble to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, let them write to me. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (Price 25c each) are sold everywhere. Sold by Druggists, Chemists, Grocers, etc. Boston, Mass. Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (Price 25c each) are sold everywhere. Sold by Druggists, Chemists, Grocers, etc. Boston, Mass.

KILLING TREES AND BIRDS AS WELL AS MOTHS

The extermination of moth pests is usually secured in one of two ways, either by clipping off the branches on which the nests are found or spraying the trees with a poisonous solution.

The spraying being the easiest method, is most frequently adopted, but it has its disadvantages, some of them very serious. In many cases this spraying when regularly repeated kills the trees. Some trees are more easily affected by such solutions than others, but all require natural moisture and absorb it in various ways. When poison is supplied instead, it is plain that the result must be detrimental to the tree. Hence it appears that in this respect the cure may be worse than the disease.

The poisonous solutions are also destructive of bird life. When a tree is sprayed with an arsenical or creosotic solution, and birds alight on it, they may drink enough of the poison to prove fatal. It is a fact that in many cases birds have been found dead near trees recently sprayed with anti-moth solutions. The cause is plain, thus in trying to exterminate a pest we are killing trees and birds. The nest lopping method is therefore the less destructive of the two and should be used in preference to the other.

TARIFF COURT TO SETTLE TARIFF QUESTIONS

The tariff is a dry subject and we presume most people turn in disgust from anything in the nature of a tariff discussion.

We would inform the reader before going further with this article, that the present discussion contains some new ideas in regard to the method of settling the tariff by taking it out of politics and submitting it to a federal tariff court.

We have suggested this solution before but we are constrained again to refer to the necessity of such a court for the just and equitable adjudication of all tariff questions.

The senate is still wrangling over the tariff schedules without making much progress towards a solution of the more difficult questions involved.

It is true that some schedules have been lowered and some increased; but so far as accurate knowledge of the necessities of each particular case go, the action might perhaps have been reversed with as much benefit to the country.

The whole discussion or at least the greater part of it is characterized by gross inaccuracy on the one hand and selfish greed on the other.

The senate is swayed by three forces, one the demands of the standard-bearers for a higher tariff, another the demands of certain interests for high protection and then the protest of the minority representing the consumers against a tariff that will stamp out foreign competition and so strengthen the trusts and combines that they can completely throttle competition in the domestic market.

With these two things accomplished, the consumer will be at the mercy of the trusts so far as the price of the necessities of life is concerned.

New enterprises that show a spirit of independence or opposition to trust control, will be crushed out so that the domination of the home market by the trusts may be supreme.

Thus the government by continuing the high tariff will foster the trusts and while so doing will we presume as usual, make a pretense of penalizing the trusts. What an absurdity!

The whole system of tariff tinkering is radically wrong and it will never be righted until it be submitted to a judicial body that will be free from political and other influences which alone dictate the arrangement of the schedules at the present time as for many years past.

With a federal tariff court instructed to maintain a tariff that will equal the difference between the cost of production in this country and abroad, plus a fair profit to the domestic manufacturer, we should soon see an equitable readjustment of the tariff and one that would serve the best interests of the people rather than the special interests of the trusts and speculative combines.

Under such a court, interested parties should be empowered to bring up any particular schedule for judicial adjustment, but there should be a provision that a judicial tariff would remain in force for at least five years. In this way there would be no paralysis of business such as results under the present system every time it is proposed to revise the tariff.

If we are to return to sane methods; if we are to provide for the stability of our industries and at the same time to protect the interests of the people, this whole tariff question must be taken out of politics and submitted to a regularly constituted court with plain instructions as to the principles governing the fixing of schedules and the regulation of oppressive trusts. There should be a provision of law to authorize this court to reduce any schedule by which trusts are enabled to extort unreasonable prices from the consumer.

Above all there should be a provision to put in operation gradually a process of tariff reduction that would put an end to the discrimination against the home consumer by the trusts that sell their products much cheaper abroad than at home. That is one of the worst outrages resulting from the excessive tariff protection afforded certain interests such as the steel trust in this country.

Moreover the excessive tariff prevents our getting a fair share of the foreign trade. In the foreign market we are outdone by England, France and Germany.

Another evil that results from this exclusive trade policy is the lack of a merchant marine.

If our trading vessels could take a cargo abroad and bring another home for our consumption, we should soon have a merchant marine such as England has. But our high tariff prevents this free commerce with other nations and hence nine tenths of our commerce is conducted in foreign bottoms.

To overcome these disabilities and national evils, we repeat, a tariff court alone can solve the problem and never will the tariff be settled right in any other way.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A well informed Washington correspondent rates Senator La Follette of Wisconsin as one of the wealthiest members of the United States senate. To the large income derived from his law practice have been added the profits from many fortunate investments.

The Woman's League of Scotland recently passed a resolution in favor of women suffrage, with only one dissenting vote.

The girls of the geological department of Barnard college are planning to take a two weeks' trip through the mountains this summer. Miss Ida Ogilvie is head of the department and the class is always under her care on these trips, for which the students receive credit in their regular college work. Miss Ogilvie took her degree of A. B. at Bryn Mawr, where she studied geology under Dr. Easton. She then took a course at Columbia, where she received her degree as Ph. D. When she went to Barnard there were only five pupils in her department. Now there are more than ten times that number. During the college term the students take weekly trips around New York, out in Long Island and down the Jersey coast.

The Arctic and Explorer's clubs of America will organize an expedition to go north in search of Dr. Frederick Albert Cook, the polar explorer, who has not been heard from in over a year. Dr. Cook has no means of coming back. It is possible that he wintered somewhere with the Eskimos, where he could get plenty of food, but there is an uncertainty about it. According to the prearranged plans Dr. Cook was to return to headquarters at Annotak, Greenland, down a Kennedy channel, through Smith sound, and in case no ship arrived he would move to Cape York and thence to Upernivik expecting to return home not later than September, 1908.

Alfred East, president of the Royal Society of British Artists, is to spend a few weeks at No. 10, and paint several landscapes. Mr. East is one of the best known of the English painters and is much impressed with the results attained by the American landscape school.

A new method of reading results of the Babcock mill test has just been devised by Steven Moulton Babcock of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. By the simple device of adding a small quantity of alcohol, saturated with fat, as soon as the test of the milk is completed, the concave surface of the top of the column is flattened out, and it is said to be thus possible to determine

EASY TO CURE RHEUMATISM

But you must have a little persistency in your make-up to do it. There are hundreds of so called rheumatism cures, but not one that we know of has stood the test of time like NEURALGIC ANODYNE.

If you have rheumatism, neuralgia, pains or aches of any kind, internally or externally, get a bottle of NEURALGIC ANODYNE to-day, and follow the directions for use.

NEURALGIC ANODYNE is a household necessity. It kills pain almost instantly, and if used promptly when pains occur, will prevent pneumonia. For sore muscles or lame back, due to over-exertion, there is nothing half so good. Sold everywhere. Made by The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.

MRS. EDDY AND RIVAL WHO WANTS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH PROBED

MRS. DELLA M. GILBERT.

BOSTON, June 8.—Mrs. Della M. Gilbert, long an ardent worker in the Christian Science faith and regarded in some quarters as the possible successor to Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy as leader, has issued a stirring statement and appeal to Christian Scientists to join her in an investigation of the control of the mother church and a re-organization of it. Mrs. Gilbert boldly states that "Mrs. Eddy is either dead or a helpless, mindless puppet in the hands of conscienceless men." She tells of a visit to the Brookline home of Mrs. Eddy and fruitless efforts to see the aged leader and founder of the faith. Her statement has caused widespread discussion among adherents of Christian Science and resulted in a reply from Alfred Farlow, head of the Christian Science publication committee, in which Mrs. Gilbert's motives are impugned.

After 41 years of service as a leader at Concord, since 1911 he has been head of the department of Religious Languages; from 1896 to 1902 he was dean of the faculty of arts and sciences, and since 1902 dean of the university faculty. He was acting president in 1893, during President Schurman's absence in the Philippines; and this year he will again preside at commencement, since President Schurman will sail on June 9 to attend as representative of Cornell the celebration of the founding of the University of Leipzig. Rufus D. Smith, instructor in political economy, will leave at the end of the current year to take a position with the Associated Charities of Pittsburgh.

Alfred Mesely of England, talking to the New York city board of education, urged the payment of higher salaries to teachers to the effect that England had no more reason than this country to be proud of the way teachers are treated in the matter of salaries.

LOWELL MASONS

Present Gift to Boston Brethren

BOSTON, June 8.—St. John's Masonic lodge is not only rich in history but, what is of greater import to it, is wealthy in the friendship that it has made. Another link in their chain was forged last night when a representative of Pentucket lodge of Lowell, the senior organization of the craft in that city, was introduced at a regular communication of St. John's in the temple, and presented an inestimable gift.

Past Master Wm. S. Heath escorted Wm. H. Lynds into the presence of Worshipful Master Roberts and the visitor stated that he was the bearer of a token of good-will and friendship on the part of his lodge, Pentucket. It was an elegant volume giving the history of that organization, now 102 years old, which in 1907 observed its centennial.

The worshipful master expressed his thanks on behalf of St. John's lodge, and asked that such an expression be conveyed to the Lowell lodge for the brotherly feeling. The volume would, he assured the visiting representative, be placed in the archives of St. John's, which contains the great store of treasures of great value to the fraternity.

The history was compiled by L. A. Dorby, the lodge secretary; Rt. Worshipful Solomon W. Stevens, Wm. H. Lynds and Benjamin W. Clements. It is embellished with photographs of all the masters of Pentucket, save three, and in addition those of Rt. Worshipful Simeon D. Nickerson, who was grand master when the Lowell Masonic temple was erected; a copy of the original charter, the nine meeting places of the lodge, and the seal.

A hearing relative to abolishing the high school at Chelmsford was held at the town hall last evening and presided over by George F. White, chairman of the school board. A. R. Barlow, Walter Peckham and A. M. Warren were among those who set forth the advantages to be gained by the removal of the high school pupils to the Lowell high school. Other towns mentioned this course were cited.

The strongest sentiment of the meeting was, however, in favor of retaining the present system. A petition having 28 signatures largely from the village, protesting against the removal of the high school, was placed in the hands of the school committee. Rev. C. H. Ellis, a former member of the school board, spoke strongly in favor of the high school in the country town as a greater building of character among the boys and girls than would be had by sending them to a city school.

The library was well filled with women interested in the proceedings and upon the floor were a number of present and past pupils of the high school, several of whom were heard in remonstrance.

SENDS MESSAGE TO CHRISTIAN SCIENCE DIRECTORS

BOSTON, June 8.—The board of directors of the Mother church of Christian Science late yesterday elected Wm. P. McKenzie as president; Stephen A. Chase of Fall River, treasurer, and John V. Dittmore of New York, clerk, the latter succeeding Wm. B. Johnson, who resigned.

The following letter was received from Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, addressed to the board of directors:

"Beloved Students—I thank you for your kind invitation to be present at the annual meeting of the Mother church on June 7, 1909. I will attend the meeting, but not in propria persona. Watch and pray that God direct your meetings and your lives, and your leader will then be sure that they are blessed in their results."

"Lovingly yours,"

"Mary Baker Eddy."

20,000 FIRE

ATTLEBORO, June 8.—A loss estimated at $20,000 was caused by a fire resulting from an explosion of chemicals in the jewelry manufacturing plant of Smith & Richardson on the top story of Robinson building No. 1, one of the oldest factory buildings here, today. Louis D. Blair, an employee of the Smith & Richardson plant, was severely burned about the face by an explosion which followed his attempt to extinguish the blaze by throwing a bucket of water on the burning chemicals. The fumes of the chemicals temporarily incapacitated Chief H. R. Packard of the fire department, who was found unconscious in a hallway of the building.

THE DEWEY CASE

Ex-Judge Says He Will Tell Jury to Disregard Charge

BOSTON, June 8.—Ex-Judge Henry S. Dewey was by all odds the central figure in yesterday's installment of the trial of his famous libel suit before Judge Sherman in the superior court.

Judge Dewey took the stand and questioned himself at length; he informed Judge Sherman that the plaintiff was going to tell the jury to disregard the law as propounded by the presiding justice; he declared flatly that the judges in Massachusetts have for years been handing down wrong decisions, and finally, when court adjourned, he had a secret conference of fifteen minutes' duration with Judge Sherman.

Some of the questions which Judge Dewey asked himself were rather startling, especially when he was trying to show the jury the distinction between the "natural" and the "artificial" schools of law as recognized by attorneys.

The answers to most of the questions were objected to and excluded, but it was plain to those present what the answers would have been to most of them.

At the morning session Judge Dewey spent nearly an hour in reading an essay on law, during which he referred to most of the persons whose names are noted in ancient and modern history as learned jurists. It was an exposition of law from the Romans to the present time and gave Judge Dewey's opinions as to how law should be interpreted.

Chas. T. Gallagher, I. R. Clark, Thos. M. Vinson, Frank H. Haynes, ex-Alderman Francis R. Bangs, Frederick Clemon, Albert Garceau and John Marco testified in the morning session. With the exception of Mr. Gallagher, they told of securing names to the Frothingham petition. None of them stated that they did it at the suggestion of the defendants, and there was nothing brought out to connect them.

FORESTERS MEET

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Preceded by a parade through the principal streets of the city, the state biennial convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters was opened in this city today, to continue through tomorrow. Today's session was a brief one, the convention organizing late in the forenoon with State Chief Ranger Pollock of Concord presiding and adjourning at one o'clock.

Factories Open

Business in Danbury Has Been Resumed

DANBURY, Conn., June 8.—For the first time since the inception of the hatmakers' strike in January last against the removal of the union label, the doors of 12 of the 22 hat factories here were opened this morning in an attempt to resume work on the open shop basis. The number of the old employees who may return to work is problematical as it is understood that they intend to stand by the union.

The conferences which were held yesterday afternoon and last night between the executive boards of the United Hatters and Rev. Fr. Kennedy and Rev. H. C. Meserve were continued today. If the representatives of the United Hatters accept the proposition of Fr. Kennedy and Mr. Meserve, the 10 factories which did not open will resume work for 90 days on an open shop basis, during which period an attempt will be made to settle the present difficulties by arbitration.

Turkish Baths, now open, under new management.

QUICK WIT

SAVED STEEPLE JACK FROM SERIOUS INJURY

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Presence of mind alone saved Edward Schneider from being dashed to death from the top of a smokestack 150 feet above the roof of a powder house of the Union Electric Light & Power Co., at Lewis and O'Fallon streets.

Schneider, with Charles Kinsey, was painting the stack, and was seated in one of the swing seats used by Steeple Jacks ready to be hoisted to the top. He gave the word and Kinsey opened the controller of an electric motor to the drum of which the hoisting rope was attached. In starting the motor Kinsey in some way caught his glove between the rope and the drum around which it was winding. In his excitement he threw the motor on full speed and the swing with Schneider in it mounted toward the top at an alarming rate.

Schneider realized the danger, but did not dare to look downward for relief. He guessed what had happened and instantly conceived the plan which saved his life.

As the guide ropes attached to the swing came level to the top of the stack Schneider jumped. He grasped a steel hoop with one hand, while he clung to the top of the stack with the other. Then he looked downward and yelled to Kinsey to shut off the power. The motor was still running, and eventually would have broken the rope or the pulley through which it ran, hurling Schneider to the roof below. Schneider's hands were bruised and lacerated, but after receiving treatment at the city dispensary he returned to work, and again was hoisted to the top of the stack.

INJURED MEN

ARE REPORTED TO BE RESTING COMFORTABLY

CAMBRIDGE, June 8.—While none of them could be considered out of danger, the three men who were wounded at Somerville Saturday, by John Murphy, who killed five men in a fit of insanity, were today resting comfortably and holding their own well. Daniel Hayes, who was considered fatally wounded, was said by the physicians at the Cambridge relief hospital to be doing remarkably well, despite his severe injuries. One of his intestines had been completely severed and it was necessary to use what is called a "Murphy button" used only in rare cases to join the two parts.

John Cheever and Joseph Chiosok were in about the same condition and unless complications set in, are expected to recover.

BOY KILLED

HE WAS CRUSHED UNDER A CARAVAN

BOSTON, June 8.—Thomas R. Burke, 9-year-old son of William J. and Mary Burke of 531 East 1st street, South Boston, was run over and killed by a two-horse caravan about 7 last evening on L street, near the Edison electric light plant, South Boston. The rear wheel of the caravan, which was loaded with stone, passed over the boy's head, crushing it.

Patrick Campbell, driver of the caravan, was informed of the accident by the watchman of the electric light company, and as it was impossible for him to render assistance, Campbell drove to the stable and then went to station 15, where he gave himself up to Lieut. Egan. Lieut. Egan called Dr. Magrath, who said that the boy's death was accidental, and Campbell was allowed to go to his home.

REV. FR. LYONS

SCORES THE AMOSKEAG CO. OF MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—Referring to the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co.'s contribution of $25,000 toward a new building for the Y. M. C. A., the Rev. John J. Lyons, pastor of St. Anne's Catholic church, said yesterday that never during his pastorate of 25 years had this corporation done anything to assist its own Catholics, or people who made millions of dollars for it, the Irish, French, Poles or Germans, for moral improvement.

"It limited its efforts," said Fr. Lyons, "to bringing the wild people of central Europe, without wives or children, with their families in their doublets to Manchester to beat down the wage scale of the people who for generations have been their faithful employees."

STAR THEATRE

There will be two amateur nights in one at the Star theatre this evening. It will be the last Tuesday evening show ever given at this popular theatre.

First there will be the camraphone "Amateur Night" which is the best product of the camraphone Co. To complete the evening's entertainment we will have our own big amateur night.

Stella Mayhew of "Union" then the "Amateur Night" and Gordon in the "Amateur Night" and the big "Amateur Night" is the camraphone program. It is in addition to the big regular show that the Star theatre always gives. It is the biggest and best show in Lowell and the admission of a seat.

See motion pictures with the camraphone acts tomorrow. Don't forget to see Eva Tanguay, Thursday.

THEATRE VOYONS

Real singers in pleasing songs are a strong feature at the Theatre Voyons today. "Oh You Cuckoo" a ragtime hit of recent date is sung as a duet by Charles Rogers and Winifred Symonds to an encore at every performance. "Love's Old Sweet Song" sung by May Whitley and the quartet comes every one. Jack Manchester sings "The Summerhouse for Mine" and "The Carlew Ball" Tells a fine romantic story of the days of Cromwell and "Saved by a Waite" tells a dramatic story of today very touchingly. There are several very laughable comedies and a travel picture "Meet & Tanburloo" that is very interesting.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

These are delightful days at the Academy for the interior of the theatre is kept cool and comfortable at all times and the usual fine show is provided daily. The warm weather will not effect the Academy, for special facilities for cooling and ventilation have been installed. The daily program consists of four reels of new motion pictures, two illustrated songs and a series of beautiful stationary views of the world known as Travel Pictures. The programs change three times weekly. A five cent admission affords one to a good seat.

SHIPPING BY FREIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The post office department is now shipping a large portion of its supplies throughout the country by freight. Prior to 1895 all such equipment for post offices was placed in the mails and paid for at the same rate as regular mail matter. From the division of supplies there were shipped during the last month 282,742 pounds of freight. A uniform bill of lading recently adopted by the government departments is being used and is proving a great convenience.

YOUNG BRYAN

SUMMONED INTO COURT AT LINCOLN, NEB.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 8.—W. J. Bryan, Jr., son of the democratic leader, was one of a half dozen automobile and motor cycle scorches who were brought into the police court yesterday for violation of the speed ordinance or other transgressions of the rules of the road. Young Bryan's chief offense was in failing to have a number on his motor cycle and for speeding, at times. It was his first offense, and he was discharged with a warning.

1000 HOMELESS

Fire at Presque Isle Caused Loss of $300,000

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., June 8.—Fire swept an area of fully one-quarter of the village last night, burning 100 dwelling houses, 10 potato storehouses, the Canadian Pacific railway freight station, the Congregational church, the Masonic hall, causing a loss estimated conservatively at $300,000. The residences burned included some of the best in the village, although the greater number were of the poorer sort. Upwards of a thousand people are homeless.

A high wind which prevailed all day is responsible largely for the extent of the disaster. It carried blazing embers a distance of a quarter of a mile in many cases and new fires started in many places at once after the fire was well under way. All the burned buildings were of the frame construction and although they were not very close together, their dry shingled roofs were easily ignited by the showers of sparks.

Steamers and volunteer fire companies from Houlton and Fort Fairfield assisted the local firemen with their hydrant service, but even with this aid the blaze could not be said to be under control until the wind had died down after all the northeastern part of the town had been leveled, and the flames had reached the woods and farming country.

It was 4:30 o'clock when the fire broke out in the kitchen of John Brown's boarding house on North Main street and it was nearly midnight before the work of destruction was finished. The burned section covers an area of half a square mile, including North Main street, Allen street, Third street, Blake street and South street to Main street.

From the boarding house the flames communicated to the Congregational church and from that time it was entirely beyond control.

Several persons were reported injured during the fire but there were no fatalities. Miss Ethel Scott was injured in an automobile collision while assisting the fire sufferers. She was thrown from her machine, suffering severe contusions and possibly internal injuries. Every able-bodied man in the village turned out to assist in fighting the flames. All the stores and all the factories closed their doors and proprietors, clerks and operatives worked together to save property and assist the unfortunate.

It was feared for hours that a shift of wind would turn the flames back upon the principal business portion of the town, but this calamity was happily averted. Late last night the breeze died down and except for an occasional shower of sparks from smoldering embers, the fire was subdued.

In the woods in the outskirts to the north, however, there was still visible the light of a good sized blaze. From the south also came reports of other fires in the woods sweeping in the general direction of the village though still many miles distant.

Every house in the town which escaped the flames was thrown open to the fire sufferers, and the churches and school buildings were also a refuge for many. Hundreds spent the night in the open guarding such effects as they had been able to save.

BILLS APPROVED SILVER WEDDING

Accounts Committee Of Mr. and Mrs. Plante Approves Lazelle Bill Today

The committee on accounts at a meeting held yesterday afternoon approved a bill of $53.70 in several weeks ago by Frank Lazelle, assistant superintendent of streets. It will be remembered that there was considerable controversy over this bill at the time and in fact it was scratched by Mayor Brown and the committee on accounts. The fight by the mayor and Ald. Turner and Councilman Welch of the committee on accounts was against paying bosses for rainy days when the laborers were docked. The city council upon learning that the bosses had to stay about the stable on rainy days while the laborer was allowed to go home, went on record as being in favor of paying the bosses for rainy days and the action of the committee yesterday was in accordance with the sentiment of the council.

The Lowell Taxicab Co., presented a bill of $31 for automobiles said to have been used by the committee on streets on a tour of inspection made on May 27. The committee on streets visited different places during the afternoon of that day, a feat that would have been impossible for ordinary carriages.

A bill of $1 for handcuffs and another of $5.70 for ambulance repairs, sent in by Dr. J. H. Sparks, were approved. A bill for $2.00 for Captain Downey's telephone was approved. The old bill from the police department for spotter evidence was not approved.

ROBERT BACON HAS ACCEPTED AMBASSADORSHIP TO FRANCE

PARIS, June 8.—Private advices received here from Washington say that Robert Bacon, ex-secretary of state, has accepted the ambassadorship to France and that he will succeed Henry White at the end of the year. According to these advices, Mr. Bacon, who was first offered the post, declined to accept it, preferring that Mr. White should be retained as ambassador, but, finding that President Taft was resolved in any event to replace Ambassador White, he finally agreed to accept the position.

Rumors of Mr. White's approaching retirement, which have been current here for months, caused genuine regret, especially in official circles where he is particularly persona grata, and among the members of the American chamber of commerce, where it was felt that his experience would count for much in the difficult tariff negotiations between the two countries, which are considered inevitable, after the passage of the new American tariff bill.

MERRILL CASE

A Handwriting Expert May be Called

Mrs. E. W. Clark's refusal to give a specimen of her handwriting at the hearing of the case of conversion of property brought by Rev. Charles A. Merrill, former general secretary of the Lowell Law and Order League, against six members of the league, was about the only incident which tended to liven the monotony of the hearing held before Judge Fisher in the civil session of the police court yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Clark testified that after there had been an accounting with Mr. Merrill up to January 1, 1909 came up the matter of the receipt for $15 which he presented to her to sign. She could not understand why, having already received for the same, Mr. Merrill desired this. Mr. Merrill asked her who gave her the money and she recalled that he had. He then said that he knew it and he wanted the signature to prove to Mr. Merrill that he (Merrill) had given it to her. At that time she signed it and handed it to Mr. Merrill. She testified that she was positive that the words "Chairs, desk, etc. of the Evening Mail" were not on it.

Then came up the question of handwriting. Mrs. Clark thought the words might have been written in by Mr. Merrill, but did not know as she would want to testify positively. She did not make out the receipt. Merely signed it.

Mr. Leggett, cross-examining, wanted Mrs. Clark to write.

"She will not write anything," said Mr. Owens.

"I think I have a right to ask that," said Mr. Leggett.

"You have a right to ask it," said the court, "but I cannot compel her to do it."

Mr. Owens: "We do not question but what this writing is a very good imitation. Anybody can see that, by looking at the date and the signature." Mr. Leggett then put in another receipt, signed by Mrs. Clark, to show handwriting.

Mr. Merrill went on in rebuttal and denied telling the committee that they would not get their furniture unless he got the original bills. Mrs. Clark, he said, stated that the bills were worth $100 and she would not let him have them, but if you cannot make one of those bills I will not trust you with the copy that you make."

Mr. Merrill testified that the disputed receipt is precisely the same form as when delivered to him and that he wrote it himself and Mrs. Clark signed it.

At the time of adjournment it was expected that Lawyer Leggett would put on a handwriting expert to show whether or not the disputed words in the receipt were written at the same time as the other portion of the paper. The hearing will be resumed tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

SENATOR BAILEY REPUDIATES NATIONAL CONVENTION PLATFORMS

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The last half hour of the session of the senate yesterday was taken up with a discussion of the Democratic side of the chamber on the power of a national convention to bind senators as to the details of legislation. Senators Bailey and Money insisted that they were not so bound and both of them referred to the vote of Mr. Bryan in the house of the cent tax of the repeal of the 10 cents tax of the banks in opposition to the party platform.

Mr. Stone, whose remarks called forth these declarations, contended that with some possible exceptions, the declarations of national conventions on party policies should receive the adherence of members of congress and others representing the party.

The incident culminated in a personal colloquy between Senators Bailey and Stone, concerning an "attack" which Mr. Bailey said he heard the senator from Missouri intended to make on congressmen who voted for a tariff on lumber.

At the night session the incident was smoothed over.

Ladies' Day, Thursdays, Turkish Baths, Middle St. Experienced attendants in charge. Everything renovated.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Joseph P. Lynch and Miss Ellen A. Hickey were united in marriage at the Sacred Heart church yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. L. The best man was Mr. Patrick S. McGovern, and the bridemaid was Miss Katherine Hickey.

CADORET—BLAIS

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Louis church yesterday, when Mr. William Cadoret and Miss Aurora Blais, the latter of Cambridge, were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Jacques. The bride was attended by her father, Mr. Michel Blais of Cambridge, and Mr. Albert Cadoret was her son's witness. After the ceremony, a dinner was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Hildreth street, followed by a reception in the relatives and most intimate friends, who included guests from Boston, Cambridge and Manchester, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Cadoret have received a great number of charming gifts. They left today on an extended wedding trip and will make their home in Cambridge, where the bride's father has extensive real estate holdings. Mr. Cadoret will be employed by his father-in-law on his estate.

CHAPOT—MARCHAND

Mr. Edouard Chapot and Miss Maria Marchand were married yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Graton, O. M. L. The witnesses were Francois Chapot and Norbert Marchand. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Chapot left on a bridal trip to Canada.

DUPREZ—ROY

Mr. Edmond Duprez and Miss Nora Roy were married yesterday morning in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Graton, O. M. L. At noon the young couple left on a bridal trip.

PRES. HEINZE TO CONFER WITH THE A. A. A. BOARD

President John O. Heinze of the Lowell Automobile club will go to New York Thursday to confer with the members of the contest board of the A. A. A. This is to be an all important meeting and it is expected that the principal business to be passed upon will be relative to the sanctioning of the races to be held in Lowell. There is little doubt that the sanction of the Three A's will be forthcoming.

While the $10,000 pledged for the guarantee fund has not been turned in as yet, Sec. McFenna stated to the writer that he is ready and anxious to receive the contributions offered by the subscribers. He is desirous that the money be forwarded to him by Thursday in order that A. A. A. that the entire $10,000 has been paid in.

Word was received here yesterday of the change in business of E. P. Chalfant, a member of the advisory board of the Three A's. Mr. Chalfant has been secretary of the Licensed Manufacturers association, but now takes an official position with the Packard Motor Car Co. He will still hold his place on the advisory board of the big racing association.

Interesting Items From Mill Centres

OAKLAND, Me., June 8.—The property of the Oakland Woolen Co. has been sold at public auction by Sheriff Colby Getchell of Augusta to satisfy a claim of $5000 held by Arthur B. Collier. There was but one bid, made by Forrest Goodwin of Skowhegan, counsel for Mr. Collier, and it was sold to him for $4100. Mr. Collier was injured while working in the mill, losing his right arm. He brought suit and was given a verdict of $5000. The property is subject to a mortgage of $50,000 held by the Augusta Trust Co. of Augusta.

ADDITION TO WARNER MILL

NEWBURYPORT, June 8.—Additions are being made to the Warner mill in this city. The picker house in rear of the mill toward Salem street is to be utilized for carding and is to be connected with the main building. This addition, comprising the extension of three floors of 22 feet each, will add 3360 square feet. The old gas house on Water street is likewise to be utilized and also connected with the mill, adding 3000 square feet. This building will be filled with new up-to-date machinery for making combed yarns a better class of yarn than ever before made in Newburyport.

IMPROVING SAXONY PLANT

BEMIS, June 8.—With the addition of a 350 horsepower electric generator, which is to be installed at the Saxony worsted mills, the plant will be equipped with 1000 horsepower. An addition to the engine room is being built, which is expected to be finished some time in July, and the new generator will probably be in commission some time the latter part of August or the first of September.

MIDDLE GEORGIA MILLS SOLD

EATONTON, Ga., June 8.—The mill property of the Middle Georgia cotton mills has been sold to J. W. Cannon et al., of Concord, N. C., for $50,000. Purchasers have applied to the superior court for charter as Imperial Cotton Mills, with paid in capital of $150,000. They will install some new machinery. Improve condition of plant, beginning work on these improvements immediately. New equipment will be installed and in operation by Sept. 1 with 250 hands in the manufacture of sheetings and drilling. R. K. Matthews has been selected as superintendent of the Imperial Cotton Mills, and will assume charge of the plant by July 1, having charge of all improvements.

WORKING ON AYER MILL

LAWRENCE, Mass., June 8.—In addition to the construction work on the new Ayer mill and the addition to the Wood mill, there is considerable work going on at that plant just at the present time. Fourteen new boilers are being installed in the boiler house, the operatives' dining hall is being renovated and a new freight house is being constructed on Merrimack street, just opposite the mill office. In order to make way for the new section which is being added to section D, it was necessary to take off a small section of the dining hall, but the portion removed was so small that it will not cause any congestion in the seating capacity of the building. The new freight house, which is being erected on the south side of Merrimack street by the Wood mill is to be utilized for storing materials and machinery for the new mills.

TO BUILD BELDING MILL

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 8.—Belding Bros. have let the contract for the addition to their silk mill in Hawley street to the H. P. Cummings Construction company of Ware and Boston. Work will begin at once and the company agrees to have the addition completed in three months. It will be 65 by 120 feet, four stories high, and will be used for the weaving department.

AGAINST CHINESE

ARREST OF PROMINENT MERCHANT IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 8.—The campaign of the government to end the smuggling of Chinese into this country in the vicinity of Boston, where it has been resorted to last night in the arrest of Chin Shue, a prominent Chinese merchant of the city, and the only notable public of that race in this country. The warrant upon which officers arrested Shue charged him with "conspiracy to defraud the United States government in illegally smuggling Chinamen into the country." It is understood that the specific case against him is connected with the landing of nearly two score of Chinamen at Marblehead on Aug. 21, 1906. Shue is alleged to have purchased the railroad tickets for the transportation of the Chinamen from Marblehead to Boston.

Americans the World's Greatest Travelers

Millions Spent In Globe Trotting by an Army of Prosperous Sightseers

A DENVER PARTY AT THE GREAT PYRAMID.

PARTY OF AMERICAN TOURISTS IN SPITZBERGEN.

AMERICANS TAKING TRAIN FOR JERUSALEM.

FIGURES are fascinating when they represent an excess of income over expenses. When applied to travel, especially foreign travel, they glow. Prosperity is the forerunner of travel. A hurried scan of the bookings of the steamship agencies in New York city indicates that the year of bountifulness is at hand. It looks as if fortune were breaking in instead of knocking. It is money to go to Europe. The money is here. Usually the flow of travel from American shores sets in early in June. This year it started in May. Bookings for sailings in June and July forecast an inundation on the other side of the sea. Revision up or down may make a difference in individual cases, but the big community is at the gateway post.

The banner year of travel abroad was 1907. Then 732,211 people sailed from the port of New York. Of this number 100,405 traveled first class, 193,572 went in second class cabins and 538,233 crossed in steerage.

In 1908 the poor and the panic stricken were huddled together. Nevertheless there were some sailings. In that year of doubt 77,000 went first class as against over 100,000 in 1907. Taking this as a basis, travel from this side during the summer at hand makes computation stand up and think.

It is estimated by foreign travel statisticians that over 500,000 go from this country to Europe between June 1 and Aug. 1 every year. A tourist agency places the exodus at 6,000 a week. Steamship agents say 6,000 a week is nearer correct. Travel to China has increased in the last six years 100 per cent. The figures in 1907 showed that 125 sailed from San Francisco every week during the travel season for that country, the total for the year being 660.

To accommodate this travel tide thirty steamship lines are actively engaged in New York city, Philadelphia, Boston and at other ports, and more than a dozen lines handle the business.

from the Pacific coast. All the money for this travel does not, as some suppose, go into foreign pockets. It costs money to get ready to make a foreign journey. It was figured out in 1899 that the expense of getting ready in this country averaged $25 for each passenger. Multiplying this by the number of people who sailed, it was found that $5,000,000 was the outlay in the United States for preliminaries before travelers had gone aboard their ships.

The figures are much larger now than in the year mentioned. It will never be known how much American money is spent in Europe every summer. Each year sees some new road opened, some new attractions added to the itinerary, although the object itself may be as ancient as those visited by the comparatively few who used to do the traveling. According to the best information, not less than $5,000,000 represented the output by American invasion into Europe in 1907. In 1895 20,000 Americans visited Paris. In 1895 the number went up to 42,000 during the season. The number was increased in the banner year and will exceed the banner year during the present season.

Travel According to Distances. If these figures fail to give the mathematical mind an idea of the tidal wave of travel a vision of the extent of foreign journeying may be had in contemplating it by distances.

Estimating the number that have gone abroad at 500,000, which is the minimum, it is found by returns made by the travel agencies that the distance traveled by this army of European occupation was over 500,000,000 miles. The same distance would be enough for a round trip to the solar system, with side trips to Mars, Jupiter and some one night stands on smaller planets. If the mathematical mind is hungry for some other basis on which to grasp the idea of the magnitude of the travel proposition, here is another way of looking at it.

If a hundred people set out to travel the distance traveled in a single season by Americans who go abroad they each would be compelled to journey 200 times around the earth, which would keep them busy at the highest rate of speed for fifty years. At this rate a traveler would have to start early in life.

Assuming that you have concluded to go abroad and that you have secured your passport, which is now necessary only in Russia, but which is a good thing to keep handy wherever you go, and assuming that you have obtained from any well known bank a letter of credit which you can show to any reputable banker abroad when you have occasion to draw, for no traveler who expects to spend much will ever carry all his money with him, the next thing of interest is the cost from, say, New York city.

There are now three rates—summer, intermediate season and winter. The traveler with a bank account that is quite elastic hardly need be told that if he secures an "imperial suit" on the Kaiser Wilhelm, for instance, it will cost $2,000 from May to July, $1,500 from April 1 to April 30 and $1,000 from August to March. These round trip rates apply to steamers of the class named. Of course there are cheaper rates on equally safe and comfortable but less speedy steamers.

After all, the cost of going over is largely a matter of pride of a brand that is labeled by the average traveler as "foolish." The time came some years ago when the traveler who took second class passage had no explanation to make for so doing. The steamship lines were not slow to act upon this, and now one may secure comfortable quarters and satisfactory service in the second cabin. In fact, one line has but one cabin, and that is frankly advertised as "second cabin." Of course there is still a cheaper cabin rate—the steerage. The cost of making a voyage to Europe is a matter of pride, the brand referred to and the pocket-book. It is not far off the fact to say that anybody can go to Europe now.

And when you are there your expenses can be worked out on the same rule. Old travelers to the other side found out long since that one may see all he cares to see and without any great discomfort by traveling anywhere in Europe second or third class. Every one who has tried it has his or her own story to tell as to how to do it. A good deal depends upon the sort of traveler one may be. Paris can be seen on $2 a day. This includes a small, cheap and clean room, wholesome food, no extras and plenty of exercise in walking. Everybody who wants to see all, except the luxuries, now walks, even if one has the price of a cab or a motor.

Bear in mind one thing—no matter how much money you have, find out before you take any step what the cost will be. This rule is a good one, whether you stay at the most luxurious hotel in any European city or pass the night in the hut of a peasant. It is not pleasant to travel under the impression that every one whom you are to meet is a robber, but remember that there are robbers in the best communities. If you are a woman and are going to travel alone on the American idea that every woman knows how to take care of herself, be careful to what city you apply the idea. You can knock about in London "all alone," and never be annoyed. If you are a woman, no matter how circumspect you may be, drop the American idea that you can take care of yourself when you arrive in Paris. And when you start out, no matter what the locality may be, don't double on your route. This warning is for men as well as women. When you do that you pay twice to see the same show.

Much of the foregoing information as well as some to follow is chiefly for the benefit of such as have not made the trip, but who may be going in the near future. In this age of personally conducted tours no detailed information is needed. If you are going in that way you need no guide. But if you are foot loose there is no reason why you should not go it alone without any fear of involving yourself financially. To such a little advance information will help.

It is possible—and this is given as the views of those who have been there—for a man whose habits at home have not led him into excesses to see a great deal of the old world on from $150 to $200 and have something left for souvenirs. Here is an actual experience, continued to London and Paris:

Two young men left Boston with $105

apiece. They went third class and at a time when there was a rate war on, and rate wars are common on the ocean highway. Their transportation for the round trip, including the fare from Liverpool to London, was $29 each. They had one room going over, but coming back they were put in a room containing ten berths. The berths were scrupulously clean and the food more wholesome than that obtained in many so-called first class boarding houses. The young men had been reared in the cultured atmosphere of Boston, but they confessed after their return that for the most part the passengers in the cabin they occupied were interesting, polite and, as a rule, far more considerate of the comfort of each other than are the passengers above in many instances. The real test of politeness is unselfishness, whether you find it on land or at sea, and, as there is something about the sea which brings people closer than is the case on land, the third class passenger who is not a brigand or a fugitive will quickly ally himself to the better element.

The two examples cited spent one week in London and six weeks in Paris. They stopped at a private house in the former. The fare to Paris and return cost $11. The room in Paris cost $1.50 each a week. Their food averaged $1.50 each a week, and they never went hungry. Here is a copy of their expenses for the trip:

Passage over and back	$29
Round trip ticket, London to Paris ..	11
Six weeks in Paris at $2 ..	28
Ticket from London to Liverpool ..	4
Total for necessities	62
Incidentals	29
Total	$91

The incidentals included several visits to museums and a few souvenirs. The rate for third class passage is higher now than it was when the two young men went over, but with the advance a similar trip may be taken for $125.

Since his first trip one of the young men has made several journeys abroad, extending his travels each time. He gives it as his experience that one may see a good deal over there for $1 a day, exclusive of car fares, and for $1.25 or $1.50 a day the traveler who goes to see instead of being seen will return satisfied.

Get Some French Phrases.

If the traveler who has no money for extras knows only his own American he will do well to master a few phrases. Here is a list that will carry one across any land: "How much does it cost?" "Have you got a room?" "That costs too much." "Haven't you got anything cheaper?" and "Give me a bill of fare." If you ask "How much does it cost?" in native you get the price of the country you are in. If you ask in United States you get the United States price. The foreigner has learned all that. The average foreigner is a past master in the art of juggling figures; hence the instinctive do not order anything from the bill of fare which does not have the figures put down in black and white. The language the traveler uses should be French. When abroad speak it as often as possible. Disguise the fact that you are an American. Even if you are in Germany speak French if you know any. A safe plan before leaving on your voyage is to lay aside from 10 to 20 per cent more than the cost you have figured.

Find the Americans.

The American traveler who goes abroad for the first time will be surprised, despite the fact that he may have a general idea that Americans are great trotters, to find so many from his own country. If you are from Philadelphia you will find a colony from that city having a good time by themselves in Spitzbergen. If you run down to Jerusalem you will find a lot of New Yorkers or Bostonians or Chicagoans roaming around in Palestine. When you get to Lydda you will get into the scurry for tickets to the holy city. All Americans who can do so now include Egypt in their plans. At the pyramids the American will certainly find some one from his part of the United States. There are Americans in Africa, on the burning sands and in the jungles. Get in touch with the American contingent wherever there is one, provided you are going where they are, and as before intimated, you will find them everywhere. They are the best travelers on earth.
